multiple disabilities if the student has concomitant impairments, the combination of which causes severe educational needs and all of the following criteria are met:

- (A) The student has subaverage general intellectual functioning, as demonstrated by evidence of intellectual functioning three or more standard deviations below the mean;
- (B) The subaverage intellectual functioning exists concurrently with deficits in at least two adaptive skill areas;
- (C) The subaverage intellectual functioning and deficits in adaptive skill areas were manifested during the developmental period and adversely affect the student's educational performance; and
- (D) The student is not eligible under the category of deaf-blindness, as set forth in subsection (c), and the student is eligible under one or more of the following disability categories:
 - (i) Autism spectrum disorder, as set forth in subsection (a);
 - (ii) Deaf, as set forth in subsection (b);
 - (iii) Hard of hearing, as set forth in subsection (f);
 - (iv) Orthopedic disability, as set forth in subsection (i);
 - (v) Other health disability, as set forth in subsection (j); or
 - (vi) Visual disability including blindness, as set forth in subsection (n);

(2) If assessment materials would not conclusively demonstrate eligibility as required under paragraph(1), the team of qualified professionals and the parent may find the student eligible under the category of multiple disabilities if the criteria in paragraph (1)(A) to (C) are met and the team documents the existence of a concomitant disability in the determination of eligibility. The documentation of eligibility shall include a statement of the concomitant disability and the basis and method used in determining eligibility.

(i) Orthopedic disability. A student shall be eligible under the disability category of orthopedic disability if there is medical evidence that a severe orthopedic disability exists that adversely affects the student's educational performance. The term includes disabilities caused by congenital anomaly, disabilities caused by disease (e.g., poliomyelitis, bone tuberculosis), and disabilities from other causes (e.g., cerebral palsy, amputations, and fractures or burns that cause contractures).

(j) Other health disability. A student shall be eligible under the category of other health disability if both of the following are met:

- (1) The student has limited strength, vitality or alertness, including a heightened alertness to environmental stimuli, that results in limited alertness with respect to the educational environment, that is due to chronic or acute health problems or a medically fragile condition such as asthma, attention deficit disorder or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, diabetes, epilepsy, a heart condition, hemophilia, lead poisoning, leukemia, nephritis, rheumatic fever, sickle cell anemia, and Tourette syndrome; and
- (2) The health disability adversely affects the student's educational performance.

(k) Specific learning disability.

- (1) General. Specific learning disability means a disorder in one or more of the basic psychological processes involved in understanding or in using language, spoken or written, that may manifest itself in the imperfect ability to listen, think, speak, read, write, spell, or to do mathematical calculations, including conditions such as perceptual disabilities, brain injury, minimal brain dysfunction, dyslexia, and developmental aphasia;
- (2) Disorders not included. Specific learning disability does not include learning problems that are primarily the result of visual, hearing, or motor disabilities; intellectual disability; emotional disability; or environmental, cultural, or economic disadvantage.

(l) Speech or language disability. A student shall be eligible under the category of speech or language disability when a significant problem in the comprehension or production, or both, of an oral communication system, which is not consistent with the student's other developmental or cognitive abilities, or both, adversely affects the student's educational performance and is evident in one or more of the following:

- (1) Articulation or phonological condition, or both;
- (2) Voice condition;
- (3) Fluency condition;
- (4) Language conditions, as documented by:

As used in this chapter, the term individualized education program or IEP means a written statement for each student with a disability that is developed, reviewed, and revised in a meeting in accordance with sections 8-60-44 through 8-60-48, and that shall include: (1) A statement of the student's present levels of academic achievement and functional performance, including: (A) How the student's disability affects the student's involvement and progress in the general education curriculum (i.e., the same curriculum as for nondisabled students); or (B) For preschool students, as appropriate, how the disability affects the student's participation in appropriate activities;	The IEP team (teachers, parents, school administrators, related services personnel, and student when appropriate) works together to develop an IEP based on the unique needs of students with disabilities. The IEP guides the delivery of special education supports and services for the student with a disability to be involved in, and make progress in, the general education curriculum. Academic achievement refers to a student's performance in academic areas (e.g., reading or language arts, math, science, or history). The information may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recent evaluation results; • Performance on statewide, district, and/or school wide assessments; • Performance and progress in the general curriculum; • Strengths and needs of the student; • Classroom observations and descriptions of student work; and • Classroom and/or curriculum-based assessments. Functional performance refers to skills used in the context of routine activities of everyday living. These may include skills such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Social/emotional/behavior: The ability to express needs appropriately; • Physical and motor skills and fitness: The ability to sit, stand,

A school that routinely excuses IEP Team members from attending IEP Team meetings would not be in compliance with the requirements of IDEA, and would be subject to the state's monitoring and enforcement provisions. It is critical for school teams to keep the best interests of the student in mind when designating IEP team members or inviting other persons with special expertise to participate in IEP Team meetings. All participants should have the knowledge to assist the IEP Team in determining the special education, related services, and other supports that are necessary in order for the student to receive FAPE. The school must inform parents that they may request the Early Intervention (EI) Care Coordinator or service provider be invited to the initial IEP meeting. §8-60-47 When IEPs shall be in effect. (a) General. At the beginning of each school year, the department shall have in effect, for each student with a disability within its jurisdiction, an IEP, as defined in section 8-60-44. (b) IEP for students aged three through five. In the case of a student with a disability aged three through five, in the development of an IEP, the IEP team shall consider the IFSP content (including the natural environments statement) described in section 636(d) of the Act and its implementing regulations (including an educational component that promotes school readiness and incorporates pre-literacy, language, and numeracy skills for students with IFSPs under this section who are at least three years of age).	The "beginning of each school year" in this section refers to the beginning of the school year for the school the student is or will be attending. The IEP in effect at the beginning of the school year should accurately reflect the program and services being delivered. This becomes particularly important at the beginning of the school year when students move from grade to grade or transition from elementary to middle school or middle to high school. For children with disabilities age three through five who received services from Part C (Early Intervention) prior to becoming eligible for Department services, Chapter 60 requires IEP teams to consider the content of the Individualized Family Support Plan (IFSP) when developing the IEP. This is intended to smooth the transition from family-centered Part C services to student-centered Part B services and provide the IEP team with information about the child from the perspective of the Early Intervention team. The school will need to request a copy of the IFSP from the parent or Part C representative (after obtaining parent

The IFSP includes:

- The child’s present levels of development based on objective criteria;
- Measurable results or outcomes expected to be achieved for the infant or toddler and the family, including pre-literacy and language skills, as developmentally appropriate for the child;
- Services based on peer-reviewed research, to the extent practicable; and
- A statement of the frequency, intensity, length, duration, and method of delivery of services.

If a particular early intervention service cannot be provided satisfactorily in a natural environment, a justification that describes the setting in which the service will be provided and an explanation that supports the decision as to how the setting will assist the infant or toddler achieve the IFSP outcomes is required on the IFSP.

The evaluation timeline begins:

- Upon receipt of parental consent, if an assessment must be conducted; or
- The date the determination that no additional assessment data is needed.

The evaluation timeline ends upon determination of eligibility.

If a student is eligible, the IEP must be developed within 15 days of the receipt of parental consent for initial provision of services, but no longer than 30 days after the eligibility determination was made. Schools should make every effort in a variety of ways to encourage parent attendance and facilitate their participation in the development of the IEP. If they are not successful in getting the parents to respond after reasonable documented efforts, then the school may hold the IEP meeting without the parent(s) in attendance in order to provide timely services for the student. A PWN describing the program and placement and a copy of the finalized IEP must be given to the parents.

The school must keep a detailed record of:

- Phone calls made or attempted and the results of those calls;
- Copies of correspondence sent and any responses received; and
- Any visits made to the parent’s home or place of employment and the results of those visits.

There is no specific timeframe for “as soon as possible.” If the initial Compensatory services - Educational services awarded to a student with a disability for the Hawaii Department of Education's failure to provide a free appropriate public education.

This information may be maintained without time limitation.

Dynamic assessment - The variety of procedures that use a "test-intervene-retest" format and embed interaction with a student as part of the assessment process.

INTRODUCTION

Special education is for students who have disabilities that cause difficulty in learning and need specialized instruction. Special education is not intended to provide support services for all struggling students; rather, the intention is to provide students with disabilities access to the same educational opportunities as their nondisabled peers.

When making a determination of disability for the purpose of special education, teams must conduct an evaluation and complete the three-prong test (see below). There must be consideration of the educational progress of the student and the interaction between the disability, the educational impact of that disability, and the need for special education. This important distinction highlights that the disability label alone does not prompt a determination of eligibility for special education. In the context of special education eligibility, the disability label has no standing alone without reference to impaired educational progress as a result of the disability.

THREE-PRONG TEST Determination of eligibility and educational need

EACH PRONG MUST BE MET BEFORE THE TEAM CAN DETERMINE THAT THE STUDENT IS ELIGIBLE FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION.

- Prong 1: DISABILITY
Is the student a student with a disability?
- Prong 2: ADVERSE EFFECT
Is the disability adversely affecting the student's involvement and progress in general education?
- Prong 3: NEED
Does the student need special education and related services as a result of his/her disability?

SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS

Anytime a student concern is raised, school teams must problem solve and plan accordingly to ensure that:

- Instructional practices meet the needs of diverse learners, and
- Adaptations to teaching and/or classroom climate are implemented as appropriate.

Schools must have strong instructional support practices in place for all students. (See Student Support Process)

Most referrals are appropriate. However, there are times when they are not. Referrals submitted for the following reasons are not appropriate:

- Teams (including parents) referring a student who is doing poorly in class without exploring general education supportive services.
- Teams agreeing to conduct a special education evaluation due to a teacher's lack of knowledge on techniques or strategies to meet the needs of the student.
- School personnel, parents or other interested parties referring a student for special education because it is the only program available to provide a student with "extra" services.

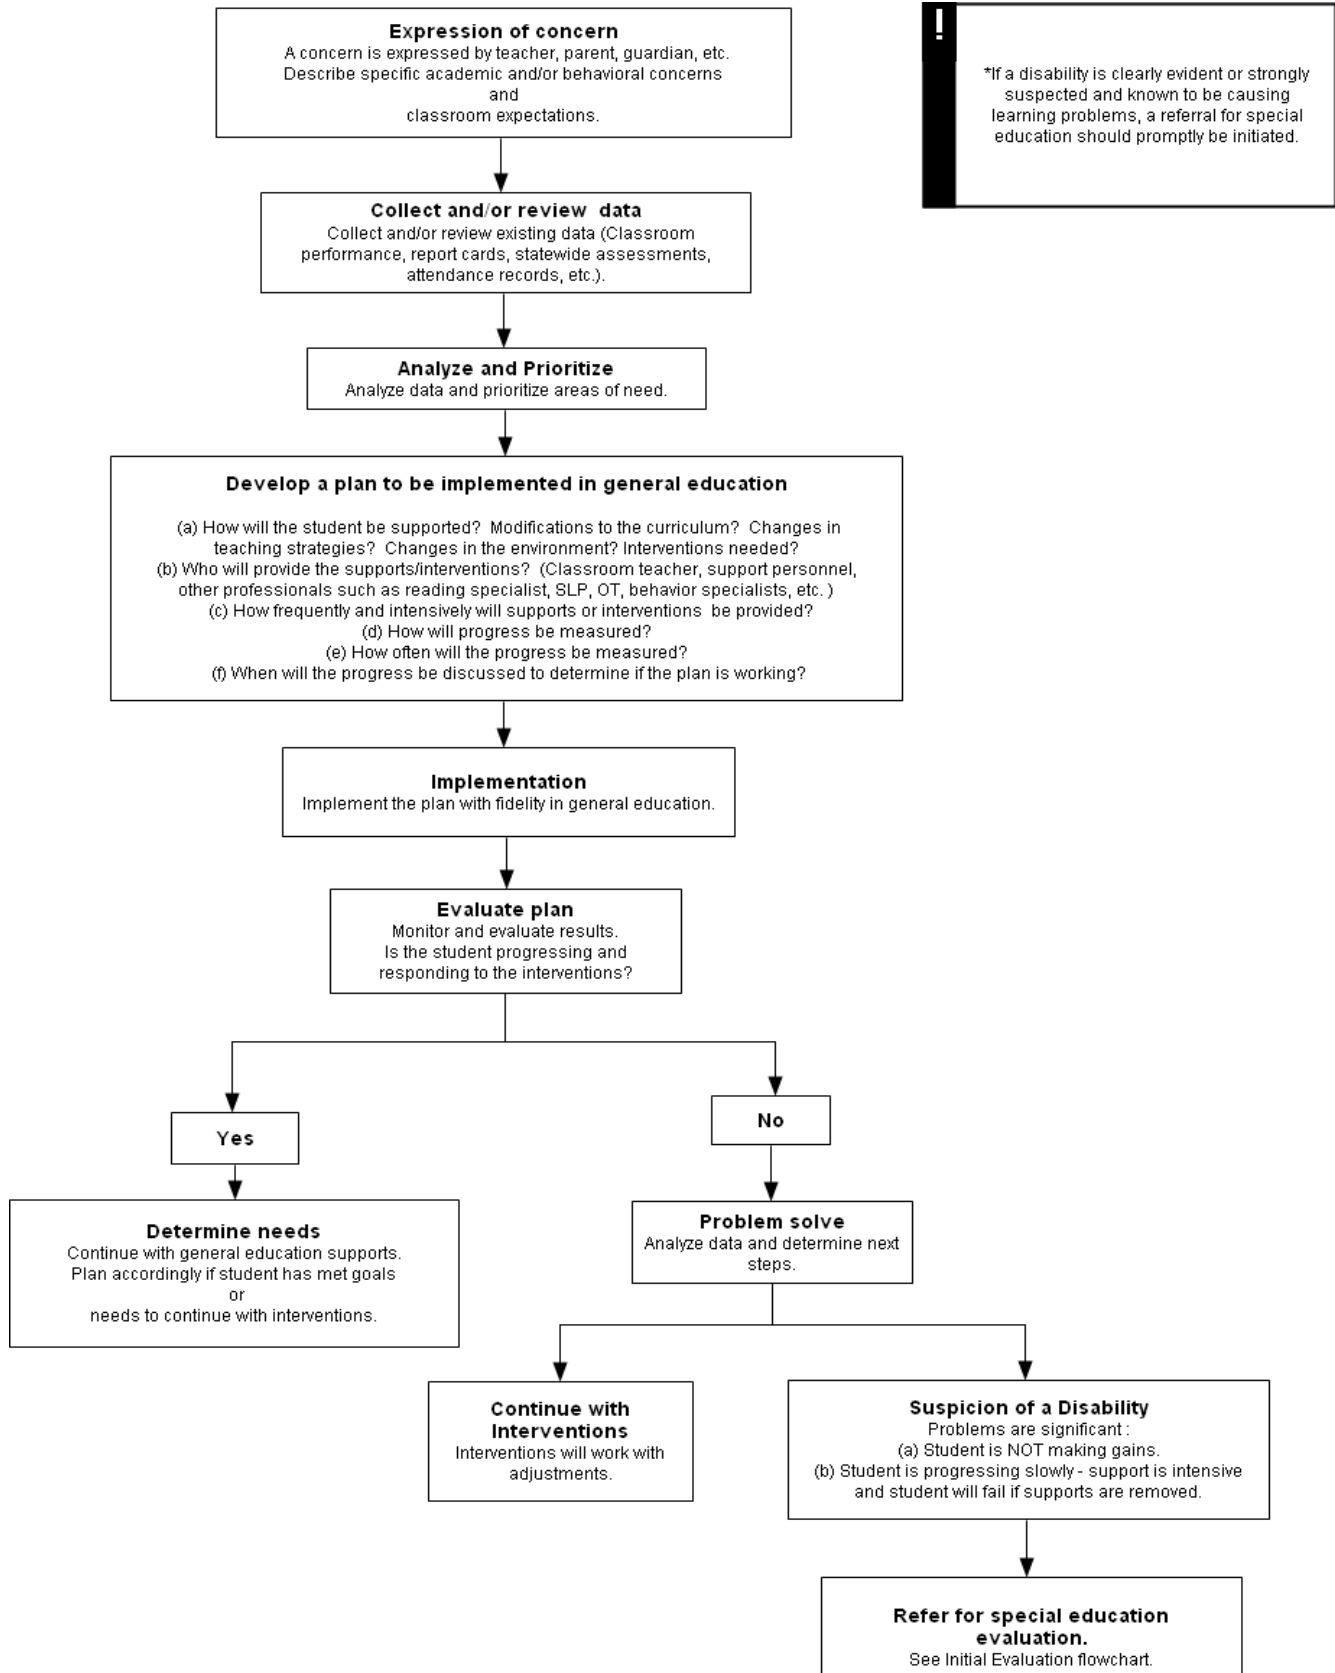

Appropriate referrals for special education begins after supportive instructional practices have occurred and the student needs far more than the classroom teacher can provide through general education supports. This would be a student who has significant academic and/or behavioral challenges and continues to display a lack of progress despite increasing levels of intervention.

OR

A student has a disability that is clearly evident or it is strongly suspected and known to be causing learning or behavioral problems which prevent progress in the general education curriculum.

Reminder: Special education is intended for students who have disabilities that cause difficulty in learning and need specialized instruction.

Student Support Process

*If a disability is clearly evident or strongly suspected and known to be causing learning problems, a referral for special education should promptly be initiated.

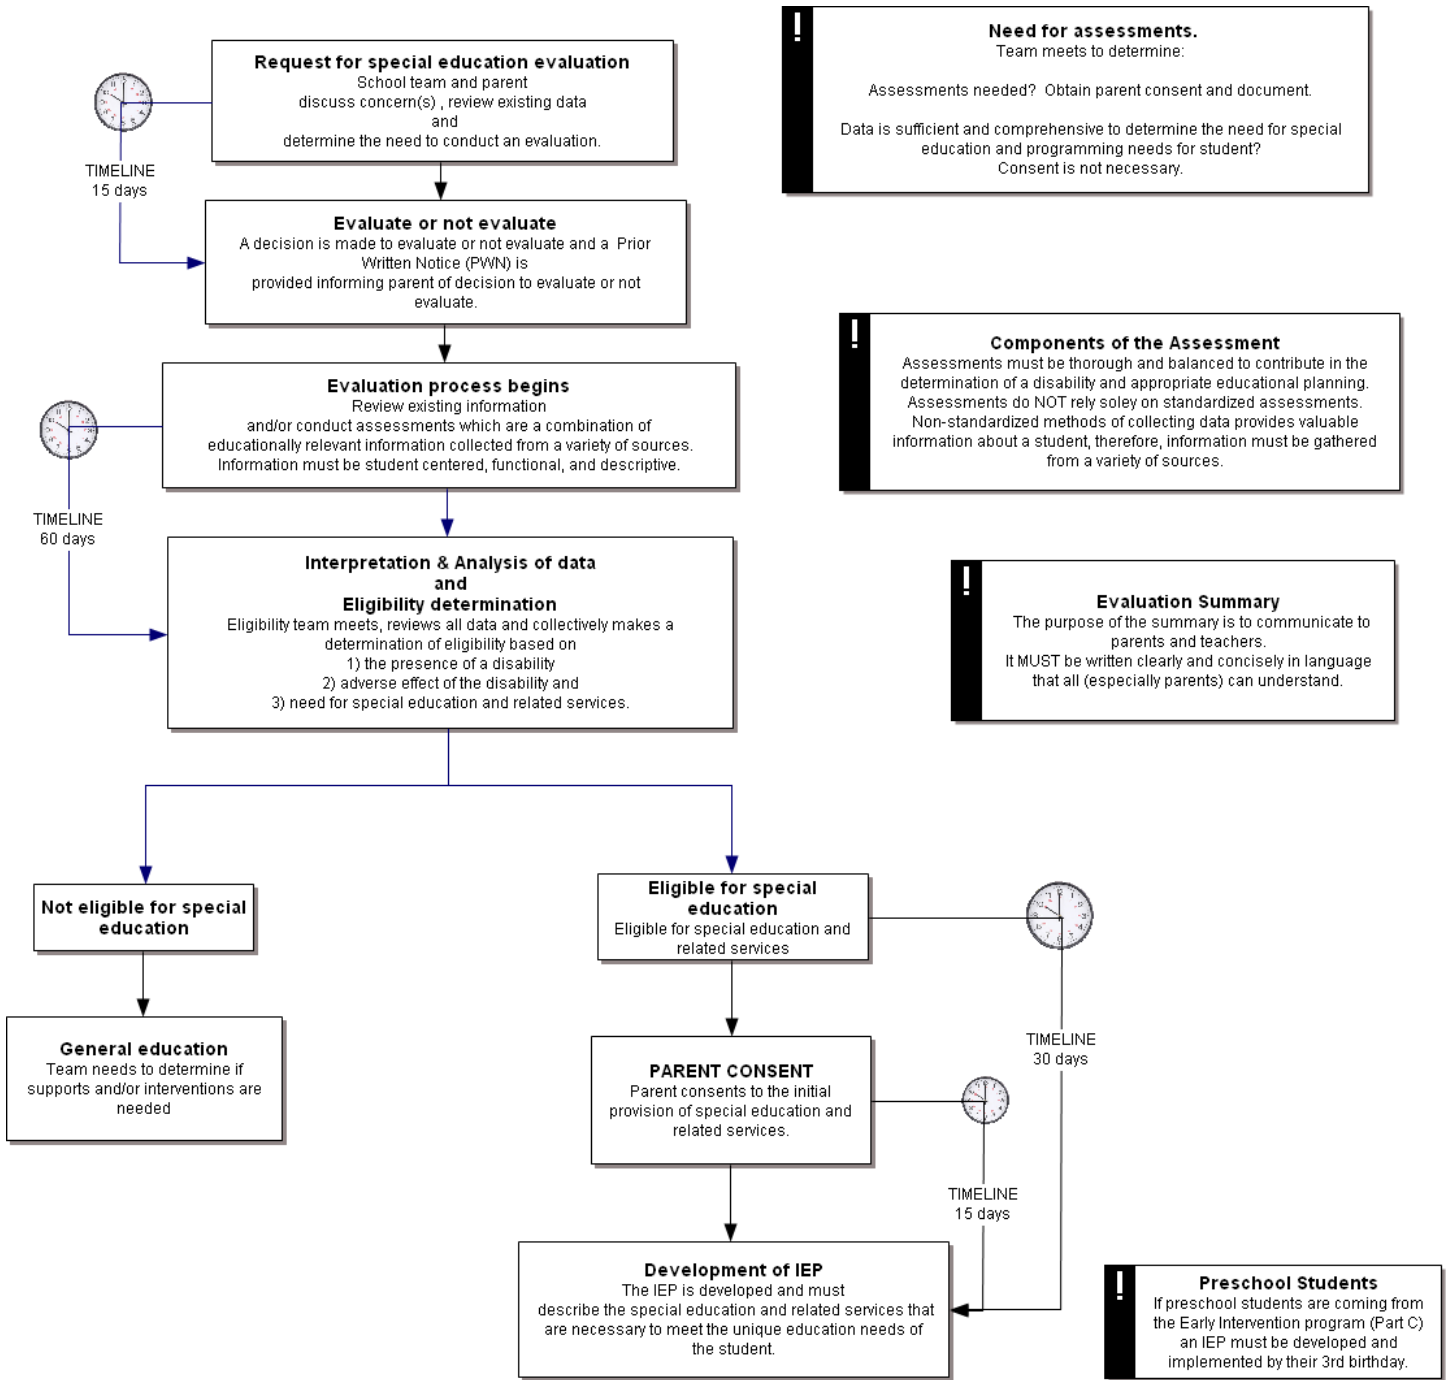

When a disability is suspected, a referral is made and the evaluation process begins.

Initial Evaluation Process

Evaluation is defined as the procedures used to determine if a student has a disability and the nature and extent of the need for special education and related services.

Purpose: To identify learners who are eligible for special education and related services by determining the presence of a disability and the need for special education.

There are specific timelines that teams must follow for the evaluation process.

Referral Process

TIMELINE

Within 15 days of the receipt of the request, the school must complete the referral process. This process should be well organized. The teacher meets with the team to discuss student concerns. During this time period, schools gather information to assist in making the decision to evaluate or not evaluate.

Step 1: School receives a request for an evaluation.

Requests may come from a variety of sources such as:

- General education teachers.
- Parents.
- Early Intervention Program.

Step 2: Obtain and review pertinent information.

Whenever a referral is made, there must be a clear and precise explanation of the concern. In addition, prior to any referral for school aged students it is expected that the student received appropriate instruction and that the referring teacher has attempted to resolve problems in the general education setting. There should be evidence that interventions have been tried and documented. See "Interventions". Pertinent information includes:

- Reason for Referral: The reason is clearly expressed.
- Educationally relevant information: Pertinent information related to the area of concern is reviewed (i.e. school history, summary of previous test results, summary of parent conferences, work samples indicative of problem, interview data from teacher, observations or screening information from service providers, reports from other agencies, etc.) See "Educationally Relevant Information"
- Appropriate Instruction: For school aged students – Was appropriate instruction provided? (See "Appropriate Instruction")
- Limited English Proficiency: When students communicate using another language, teams must obtain information on what the student knows and can do within their own culture. This would involve comparing the student's abilities to other children who come from the same community with similar cultural and linguistic experiences. A parent interview regarding these issues is critical. See "Limited English Proficiency" for additional information regarding this topic, "Parent Questionnaire (ELL)", "Interpreter/Teacher Questionnaire (ELL)". [See page 7.]
- Interventions tried: Attempts to resolve problems and results of intervention should be documented. See "Effectiveness of Interventions"

Step 3: Discuss the request for a special education evaluation with the parent.

In this discussion the school should:

- Determine whether parent's proficiency in English is limited. School must provide an interpreter in the parent's primary language when a need is suspected. Parent may waive the use of an interpreter, but the offer for an interpreter must be made.
- Explain what is meant by disability and the difference between special education and related services vs. general education supports for student.

Step 4: Determination to evaluate or not evaluate

- Review all information See "Review of Information Checklist"
- Determine with parent if there is a suspicion of a disability and if the intention is to proceed with a special education evaluation (vs. obtaining general education assistance).
- Explain the decision (to evaluate or not evaluate) to the parent.
- If the decision is to conduct an evaluation with additional assessments
 - determine the additional data needed See "Sufficiency of Data" and "Planning for additional assessments"
 - obtain parental consent*

- Provide the parent(s) with a Prior Written Notice (PWN) informing them of this decision and the reasons in their primary language.
- Provide parents with the procedural safeguards notice (PSN) in their primary language.

*If a parent refuses to give consent for an initial evaluation for special education and related services, the school may utilize mediation or impartial due process hearing procedures to pursue the evaluation; however, the school is NOT required to pursue the evaluation using due process procedures.

Evaluation

Appropriate Instruction

Before moving forward with a special education evaluation this information should be discussed, as it is inappropriate to refer a student for a special education evaluation if the primary cause of their learning problems are due to a lack of instruction in reading or math or limited English proficiency.

Appropriate Instruction* Appropriate instruction means that the instruction and interventions provided were scientifically research based and practiced in the manner that was developed so as to ensure high learning rates for most students.
A student must not be found to be a student with a disability if the determinant factor for their learning difficulty is:	Things to consider in the determination of appropriate instruction. A critical hallmark of appropriate instruction is that progress is systematically monitored and analyzed to determine effectiveness of instruction and responsiveness to interventions.
Lack of appropriate instruction in reading.	Reading instruction must have consisted of instruction in: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Phonemic awareness. • Phonics. • Vocabulary development. • Reading fluency, including oral reading skills. • Reading comprehension. If attendance records indicate that the student was not present during the majority of the instructional time, this would factor into a “lack of appropriate instruction.”
Lack of appropriate instruction in math.	Math instruction and curriculum must have consisted of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Math calculation. • Math problem solving. • Conceptual understanding. If attendance records indicate that the student was not present during the majority of the instructional time, this would factor into a “lack of appropriate instruction.”
Limited English proficiency.	Consider proficiency in English and in the student’s native language, amount of time in the country, level of education in the student’s native country, etc. If, in spite of appropriate accommodations and interventions, the student’s learning difficulties persist, then this factor is ruled out.

Preschool aged students – Appropriate instruction may not be applicable since the child may NOT have attended any program(s) outside of the home. In these situations, teams should ask parents and/or caregivers about the child’s exposure to developmentally appropriate activities. These activities may include but are not limited to “reading books,” singing songs, reciting nursery rhymes, playing with manipulative, counting aloud, etc.

Limited English Proficiency

Prior to referring a student for a special education evaluation, the team must determine whether the student has had a reasonable opportunity to learn or adjust to school. In order for a student to become proficient in a second language both basic interpersonal communication skills (BICS) and cognitive academic language proficiency (CALP) skills need to be developed.

Basic Interpersonal Communication Skills (BICS) are usually superficial oral language skills and take about two years to develop from the time of exposure to the second language. (e.g. “How are you?”, “What did you do today?”, “Let’s go to the movies”, etc.).

Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency (CALP) is the language the student needs to acquire for academic success and it usually take about five to seven years or longer to master.

In addition, students with Limited English Proficiency may be more comfortable speaking with other second language learners in a social setting, yet remain silent in the general education classroom. This silent period is a part of the learning process as the student attempts to make the needed connections between the first language and their newly acquired language.

Difference vs. Disability

It is critical to differentiate between a student who is not achieving in the classroom due to limited English proficiency, and a student who is not achieving due to a language disability. Whenever there is a question about a language difference vs. disability a speech-language pathologist should be included in the evaluation process.

Specific ELL considerations to be addressed prior to a referral for special education

A student can only be found to have a disability if the learning problems are present in both English and the individual’s primary language. When eligibility for special education is being considered for these students, the team must rule out cultural differences and English proficiency as the primary reason for performance deficits.

It is important for school teams to obtain relevant information about a student’s background, language development, school history and health. See “Parent Questionnaire (ELL)”.

Concern

- Are problems evident in the student’s first (primary) language?
 - Do native speakers of the student’s language have difficulty understanding the student?
 - Does the student have difficulty following instructions in his/her native language as well as English?
- In addition to the general education teacher, do others have similar concerns? (e.g. parents, extended family members, ELL teacher, other support personnel)
- Is the student’s progress in acquiring English significantly different from that of peers who started at or about the same level of English language proficiency and have had comparable instruction? See “Teacher Concern Questionnaire” and “Teacher Questionnaire (ELL)”.

Interpreters

An interpreter is the link between the school culture and the culture of the student’s family. The following practices should guide use of interpreters in the evaluation process.

- Interpreters should be used when school personnel are not fluent in the student’s primary language.
- When assessing students, it is preferable to use a trained interpreter rather than a family member.
- Use interpreters when interviewing family or talking with the student in a language other than English.
- Ask interpreters to provide school personnel with knowledge about the student’s culture, this is especially important when team members are unfamiliar with the culture of the student. See “Interpreter Questionnaire (ELL)”
- Use interpreters in parent meetings unless waived by parent.

Teachers

- Discuss with the ELL and/or general education teacher the student’s acquisition of English in comparison to students who come from similar backgrounds and/or cultures. See “Teacher Questionnaire (ELL)”.

Use of standardized measures

- Use standardized tests with caution. If the normative sample for the test did not include a comparable group or if the testing procedure was modified scores should NOT be reported.

Interventions

To address the student's difficulties, school personnel should identify the needs of the student and adjust accordingly. Below are some questions that can be asked of general education teachers to determine if appropriate steps were taken to support the student's area of concern. The interventions below may not be appropriate for some students (particularly preschoolers).

Instructional practices

Was the student provided supportive instructional practices such as:

- Clear learning objectives.
- Active and varied learning activities across subject areas.
- Oral and visual directions for assignments, along with visual, auditory, and tactile prompts.
- Immediate and specific feedback about performance.

Did the teacher use:

- A variety of teaching approaches (e.g., teacher-directed instruction and practice, group discussion, problem solving, cooperative learning, etc.).
- Formal and informal assessment data and progress monitoring to guide instruction.
- Co-teaching or team teaching.
- Homework assignments to promote and reinforce student learning.

Curriculum and materials

Was the student provided with curriculum and materials that were supportive of a variety of learning styles?

- Use of a wide variety of curricular and instructional materials (e.g., taped books, large print, computer based programs, manipulatives, etc.).
- Choices in assigned reading materials matched to student's interest.
- Developmentally appropriate, culturally and linguistically sensitive teaching materials.

Classroom environment

Was the student provided with a supportive classroom environment?

- Contracts (such as student/teacher) to encourage on task behaviors.
- Provision of clear structure for class activities.
- Allowing additional time to complete tasks.
- Arranging physical space/materials to minimize distractions.

Educationally Relevant Information

Educationally relevant information (from parents, caregivers or school staff) related to the area(s) of concern is useful when used to determine if the problems are due to a disability and the impact on education. Sometimes school teams are inundated with lots of information, the key question to ask:

Is this information related to the student's education? Why?

Information from the areas listed below should be documented and shared with team members early on in the evaluation process as it can assist with the determination of areas that need to be assessed or further explored.

Type of information	Why is the information needed
Developmental, health, and educational history	May be used to determine long lasting or pervasive concerns.
Medical information	Necessary to ensure the student's health and safety while attending school.
Functional skills related to education and in consideration of activities same age peers are engaged in. e.g. writing one's name, transferring to toilet, feeding self, using electronic devices, etc.	Helps in the determination of meaningful goals which are relevant to education and activities a student will encounter on a daily basis.
Physical abilities related to education and in consideration of activities same age peers are engaged in. e.g. walking up the stairs, moving from one place to another, sitting in a chair, running, reaching for books etc.	Helps in the determination of accommodations needed for the student to access education and engage in educational activities similar to same age peers. Brings to everyone's attention the safety needs of the student.
Social and cultural background e.g. different attitudes toward schooling, different approaches to teaching based on one's culture or learning styles, etc.	What unique social and/or cultural characteristics does the school team need be aware of to ensure that the student is not mistakenly identified as having a disability.
Observations related to the area of concern e.g. observations must be objective and focused on student behavior or ability. It should not include descriptions of the student's appearance, subjective statements or the observer's opinion.	To obtain information about a student's observable behaviors in various educational contexts and situations. Especially when there is a difference between what parents, teachers and/or assessors report.
Data from screenings for instructional purposes	Helps assessors understand the focus of the concern. Strengths and needs of student.
Attendance records, discipline reports, report cards, retentions, etc.	Helps with the determination of appropriate instruction, access to education, real time in instructional activities.
Information provided by parent and evaluation reports from other agencies or professionals.	Provides parent perspective regarding the area of concern and information from a different perspective.

Sufficiency of Data or Additional Assessments Needed

Once the team decides to proceed with a special education evaluation, they need to determine if:

- they have a sufficient amount of information to determine the need for special education and related services, or
- additional information is needed. This involves some planning and discussion by the team. Based on information the team already has they need to determine the additional information needed so that sound decisions can be made about the students. They must determine what information is needed, why it is needed, and how the information will be obtained. This should be discussed with the parent and consent obtained. (See planning for additional assessments p. 22)

Sufficiency of Data

Occasionally teams will have a sufficient amount of data to determine eligibility. (See “Sufficiency of Data”)

- If the team has sufficient data, they may use the data provided without administering specific assessments and determine eligibility.
- Caution: Even if teams determine that they have a sufficient amount of data, it is best practice for at least one team member to observe the student in the educational setting or their natural environment to validate information.

Sufficiency of data
Use the existing data to answer the following questions.	Yes	No
The team has documentation to determine that the student is a student with a disability.
The team has enough data to determine that the disability is adversely affecting education.
The team has enough data to determine that the student does or does not need special education and related services.
The team can use the available information to plan and develop a program for the student.
The present levels of academic achievement and functional performance can be identified and described.

Variety of Assessment Tools

The team must gather relevant functional, developmental and academic information about the student using a variety of assessment tools and strategies.

Assessments should be much more than the administration of standardized tests. One piece of data from a formal measure, while interesting, only provides a brief glance at the student's skills and abilities . . . it is critical to have several "looks" at the student and this includes what is typically referred to as informal assessments. Going beyond standardized tests allows one to obtain information on a student that will optimize the match between the student needs and services that are provided.

There are many ways to gather information on a student. To identify/confirm student needs, assessors should use a variety of assessment methods. This would involve a multi-modal, multi-informant and a multi-setting component.

Multi-modal component focuses on the methods used to gather information. It involves the use of both formal (standardized) and informal measures. There must be a balance between the two measures, without an over-reliance on one or the other.

Formal (standardized) measures provide a sample of a student's performance and behavior
Informal (authentic observations) measures document a student's performance over a period of time and across settings and should support the findings of the formal test results.

Multi-informant component focuses on gathering information from various sources. Sources may include but are not limited to:

- Teachers
- Parents
- Student
- School personnel (counselors, speech-language pathologists, occupational therapists, physical therapists, behavioral health specialists, etc.)
- Input from other non-DOE professionals (pediatricians, psychiatrists, etc.)

Multi-setting component focuses on gathering information on the student in different settings. These may include (as appropriate)

- Classroom
- Lanai or hallway
- Playground
- Cafeteria
- Isolated testing room
- Home

Social maladjustment: A social maladjustment is a persistent pattern of violating societal norms, such as multiple acts of truancy, substance abuse, or sex abuse, and is marked by struggle with authority, low frustration threshold, impulsivity, or manipulative behaviors. A social maladjustment unaccompanied by an emotional disability is often indicated by some or all of the following:

- Unhappiness or depression that is not pervasive.
- Problem behaviors that are goal-directed, self-serving, and manipulative.
- Actions that are based on perceived self-interest even though others may consider the behavior to be self defeating.
- General social conventions and behavioral standards are understood, but are not accepted.
- Negative counter-cultural standards or peers are accepted and followed.
- Problem behaviors have escalated during preadolescence or adolescence.
- Inappropriate behaviors are displayed in selected settings or situations (e.g., only at home, in school, or in selected classes), while other behavior is appropriately controlled.
- Problem behaviors are frequently the result of encouragement by a peer group, are intentional, and the student understands the consequences of such behaviors.

Clarifications for Speech or Language Disability
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A speech-language pathologist (SLP) must be a part of the team making the decision regarding speech or language disability. • This eligibility category pertains to students who have significant difficulties with the oral communication system. • Multiple sources of data (see “Variety of assessment tools and strategies”) must be considered in addition to performance on formal tests. Determination of a disability should not be based solely on results gathered from the SLP. • In order for a speech or language impairment to be considered a disability, it MUST have an adverse effect on progress in the general education curriculum. • Speech or language skills that are dialectal, cultural, or ethnic in nature are NOT a disability.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A medical report to indicate that the brain injury was sustained must be provided. • Pre- and post- information should be collected as a part of the TBI assessment. • Optimal results are usually obtained in a quiet, one-on-one setting; however, these do not always accurately predict a student's performance in a real-life situation; a student's performance in a variety of settings should occur. • A student cannot be identified as having a traumatic brain injury if the brain injury is congenital or degenerative or induced by birth trauma.

Eligibility Determination Process

Summarize and integrate assessment data using the Evaluation Summary Report. Provide a concise summary* of key findings and document in the appropriate sections.

- Discuss and review all information obtained on student.
- Compare findings to determine if the data collected meets the required elements of an eligibility category.
- Document team findings.

*This summary should not provide the level of detail included in the assessment information provided by individual assessors. It should be a succinct summary which integrates and validates all information obtained through the review of data and information collected by the individual assessors. Individual assessors should describe student needs and strengths in specific areas as this information can also be used to assist in the development of effective interventions and support the student’s success within the general education environment.

Determine adverse effect. Based on all data describe the adverse effect the disability is having on the student’s involvement and progress in the general education curriculum. Which area/skill(s) is adversely affecting the student’s education and how is it being affected?

Considerations in determining adverse effect
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is evidence that the disability is preventing the student from accessing and progressing in general education (consider the frequency and intensity of the behaviors). • Exposure or increased practice did not alleviate limitations in adaptive skill areas. • Skills/behaviors were resistant to accommodations of instruction, curriculum, and/or environment. • When interventions were provided (over a reasonable amount of time), there was no change in skill level(s) or no positive trend in rate of skill(s) development. • Generalization of skills to other situations/tasks did not occur with intervention. • Despite interventions, instructional and/or curricular accommodations did not sufficiently alleviate educational or behavioral concerns.

Determine the student’s educational need for special education and related services as a result of his/her disability. Use the data to determine if the student’s need for having adapted content, methodology, or delivery of instruction is so great that it cannot be provided without the support of special education (i.e., specially designed instruction*). The team must identify the areas of educational need.

Specially designed instruction is organized and planned instructional activities that adapt, as appropriate, to address the unique educational needs of an eligible student, the content, methodology, or delivery of instruction. Review the comparison between specially designed instruction and accommodations to help determine if student is in need of specially designed instruction.

Consistency between evaluation and IEP

The IEP should address the unique educational needs of the student which were identified in the evaluation process.

Re-Evaluation

Definition: An evaluation that is conducted at any time after a student has undergone an initial evaluation and is currently eligible for special education services.

Frequency of the reevaluation:

- Shall not occur more than once a year, unless mutually agreed upon by the school and parent.
- Shall occur at least once every three years, unless parent and school mutually agree that a reevaluation is unnecessary.

Most components of the reevaluation process are identical to those required for initial evaluation (see “Initial Evaluation and Eligibility”). There are some differences between the initial and reevaluation. For example:

- Specific individuals on the reevaluation team may be different than they were for the initial evaluation.
- Under certain circumstances, the reevaluation may be conducted without parent consent.

Despite these differences, the three-prong test still applies to reevaluations.

THREE-PRONG TEST

Determination of continued eligibility and educational need

EACH PRONG MUST BE MET BEFORE THE TEAM CAN DETERMINE THAT THE STUDENT CONTINUES TO BE ELIGIBLE FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION.

- Prong 1: DISABILITY
Does the student continue to have a disability?
- Prong 2: ADVERSE EFFECT
Is the disability adversely affecting the student’s involvement and progress in general education?
- Prong 3: NEED
Does the student continue to need special education and related services as a result of his/her disability?
Have these educational needs been identified?

Purpose of the reevaluation: In addition to the three-prong test, the team needs to determine if effective interventions are in place for the student. A reevaluation will help teams and parents identify and determine the following:

- Does the student continue to have a disability?
- Have the educational needs of the student been identified?
- What are the present levels of academic achievement and related developmental needs (i.e., functional performance) of the student?
- Are any additions or modifications to the special education and related services needed to enable the student to meet the measurable and annual goals set out in the Individualized Education Program (IEP) and to participate (as appropriate) in the general education curriculum?

Reevaluation process:

Step 1: Discuss and determine the necessity of a reevaluation. Team and parent discuss if a reevaluation is necessary (see below “Determining the need for a reevaluation”).

- If the team and parent decide that the program and eligibility are not in question, and a reevaluation will NOT be conducted, proceed to Step 2: Reevaluation is unnecessary.
- If the team and parent agree that a reevaluation is needed, proceed to Step 3: Reevaluation will be completed.

Determining the need for a reevaluation

A reevaluation must be conducted if:

- The student’s educational or related service needs have changed.
 - The student has improved academic achievement and functional performance.
 - The student is not progressing, and a reevaluation is needed to address more specific or detailed information for educational programming.
- A change in eligibility is being considered (including a student who may no longer need special education and related services).
- The student’s parent or teacher requests a reevaluation.

A reevaluation is NOT required:

- Before termination of a student’s eligibility due to graduation with a regular diploma.
- When a student has exceeded, or will be exceeding, the age of eligibility of a free appropriate public education (FAPE), which would be 20 years of age by the end of the school year.
- When the team and parent decide that the student’s eligibility is not in question and needs are known (see “Questions to ask when determining the necessity of a reevaluation”).

Questions to ask when determining the necessity of a reevaluation

- Is the student’s current eligibility in question?
- What are the advantages and disadvantages of conducting a reevaluation?
- What effect will the reevaluation have on the student’s educational program?
- Can the team identify the needs of the student?
- Is additional data needed to determine if the student continues to have a disability?

Step 2: Reevaluation is unnecessary. Provide parent with a Prior Written Notice (PWN) of the team’s decision that a reevaluation is unnecessary. The school must:

- Notify parents of the determination and the reasons for the determination.
- Explain the rights of the parent to request an assessment to determine if the student continues to be a student with a disability and to determine the student’s educational needs.

Step 3: Reevaluation will be completed. Provide parent with a PWN of the team’s decision that a reevaluation will be completed.

Step 4: Review existing data. (See “Review of existing data” and “Sufficiency of data.”) Is the team able to determine that the student continues to be a student with a disability? Can programming and planning be completed?

- If the team has sufficient data, document the information and proceed to Step 8.
- If the team does not have sufficient data and additional data needs to be obtained, proceed to Step 5.

Review of existing data
Review of existing data refers to the process of collecting information that is relevant to the evaluation.
Data to be collected may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Information on developmental, medical, and educational history (also used to determine if concerns are long lasting or pervasive). • Information relative to family composition and experiences (as appropriate and relevant to education) volunteered by parent. • Information on performance and rate of learning. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ Daily work, grade level content mastered, classroom-based assessments and/or observations. ◦ Test scores, assessments (i.e., statewide assessments, norm-referenced assessments, etc.). ◦ Intervention(s) attempted and effects of the intervention(s), e.g., teacher and/or service provider information, information on instructional level that is significantly different from the content and skills of the regular education curriculum. • Report cards and IEP progress reports. • Attendance records, discipline reports, retentions, etc. • Evaluations and information provided by parent. The information should sufficiently identify the area of disability and assist with programming for educational needs.

Sufficiency of data
Using the existing data, the following questions can be answered with documentation:	Yes	No
• Is there documentation to determine that the student continues to be a student with a disability?
• Is there data to determine that the student needs special education and related services?
• Can the team identify the specially designed instruction that the student needs?
• Can the present levels of academic achievement and functional performance be identified?
• Have additions or modifications to the special education and related services been identified and will they enable the student to meet the measurable goals set out in the IEP and participate, as appropriate in the general education curriculum?

Step 5: If the answer is “no” to any of the questions in “Sufficiency of data, use “Additional data needed” to identify the critical data required to assist with programming and planning, and determine the data needed and who will obtain the data.

Additional data needed
Select the area that additional information is needed?	What critical data is needed to address the student’s educational program?	Who will collect the data?
<input type="checkbox"/> Achievement
<input type="checkbox"/> Adaptive Skills
<input type="checkbox"/> Cognitive Ability
<input type="checkbox"/> Social/Emotional/Behavior
<input type="checkbox"/> Speech/Language/Communication
<input type="checkbox"/> Other

Step 6: Obtain parental consent. Consent must be obtained prior to the administration of specific tests.

- If parent provided consent for assessment(s), proceed to Step 7.
- If parent does not respond and reasonable efforts have been made to obtain the consent, document multiple attempts made to contact parents and continue with the reevaluation process, proceed to Step 8.
- If parent does not provide consent the school may, but is not required to, use consent override procedures which are mediation or due process.

Step 7: Conduct assessments.*

 Assessments

Definition: The specific tests, observations, tools, etc. used to gather relevant and meaningful information that will assist in the determination of current levels of academic achievement and functional performance.

Purpose: To identify areas of strength and weakness, provide information which will aid in the development of educational plans, and establish baseline functioning.

Step 8: Summarize and integrate assessment data using Evaluation Summary. Provide a concise summary* of key findings and document in the appropriate sections.

- Discuss and review all information obtained on student.
- Compare findings to determine if the data collected meets the required elements of an eligibility category.
- Document team findings.

*This summary should not provide the level of detail included in the assessment information provided by individual evaluators. It should be a succinct summary which integrates and validates of all information obtained through the review of data and information collected by the individual evaluators. Individual evaluators should describe student needs and strengths in specific areas as this information can also be used to assist in the development of effective interventions and support the student’s success within the general education environment.

Step 9: Determine adverse effect. Based on all data describe the adverse effect the disability is having on the student's involvement and progress in the general education curriculum. Which area/skill(s) is adversely affecting the student's education and how is it being affected?

Considerations in determining adverse effect
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is evidence that the disability is preventing the student from accessing and progressing in general education (consider the frequency and intensity of the behaviors). • Exposure or increased practice did not alleviate limitations in adaptive skill areas. • Skills/behaviors were resistant to accommodations of instruction, curriculum, and/or environment. • When interventions were provided (over a reasonable amount of time) there was no change in skill level(s) or no positive trend in rate of skill(s) development. • Generalization of skills to other situations/tasks did not occur with intervention. • Despite interventions, instructional and/or curricular accommodations did not sufficiently alleviate educational or behavioral concerns.

Step 10: Determine the student's educational need for special education and related services as a result of his/her disability. Use the data to determine if the student's need for having adapted content, methodology, or delivery of instruction is so great that it cannot be provided without the support of special education (i.e., specially designed instruction*). The team must identify the areas of educational need.

Specially designed instruction is organized and planned instructional activities that adapt, as appropriate, to address the unique educational needs of an eligible student, the content, methodology, or delivery of instruction. Review the comparison between specially designed instruction and accommodations to help determine if student is in need of specially designed instruction.

From:  Kathryn S. Matayoshi, Superintendent

Subject: Early Childhood Transition: Requirements and Procedures to Ensure Compliance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

The Hawaii Department of Education (DOE) provides special education and related services to children with disabilities beginning at age three under Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and Hawaii Administrative Rules (HAR) Chapter 60. The Hawaii Department of Health (DOH), Early Intervention (EI) Section, provides services to infants and toddlers and their families under Part C of the IDEA. IDEA and HAR Chapter 60 include specific requirements related to the transition of children from Part C to Part B at age three.

The state is required to have in effect policies and procedures to ensure that children participating in EI programs, and who are potentially eligible to receive special education and related services from the DOE, experience a smooth and effective transition to DOE preschool programs. Both agencies have specific requirements that must be met and procedures that must be coordinated between the agencies.

- EI must convene a transition conference, unless the parent opts out, and must invite a DOE representative if the child is potentially eligible for DOE services.
- A DOE representative must participate in the transition conference if invited.
- EI must provide a written notification to the school for any child who is potentially eligible to receive services at least 90 days prior to the child's third birthday.
- The DOE must ensure that, for children referred by EI, the child's eligibility must be determined and, if eligible, services provided by the child's third birthday.

The DOE and DOH have revised procedures, documents and data collection to be consistent with updated information and reporting requirements from the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) pertaining to these transitions.

One change of practice of note is that EI programs will no longer be filling out and submitting the DOE Form 101, Request for Evaluation. Although completing the DOE Form 101 has always been the school's responsibility to complete, many EI programs have traditionally used the DOE

Form 101 to begin a child's transition to the DOE. Beginning July 1, 2011, the DOH, Early Intervention Form EI-8b, Part C Transition Notice to DOE (Attachment D), will serve as a referral or request for evaluation. This form includes the information necessary for DOE personnel to complete the DOE Form 101.

Upon receipt of a Form EI-8b, Part C Transition Notice to DOE, the school must:

- Date-stamp the transition notice.
- Provide the parents of the child a copy of the Procedural Safeguards Notice.
- Complete the DOE Form 101
 - The receipt date stamped on the transition notice becomes the "Date the DOE first received this request" at the bottom of the DOE Form 101.
 - The date of the parent signature on the EI-8b becomes the date of the "Signature of Requester" on the DOE Form 101.
- Within 15 days of the date of receipt of the transition notice, convene and/or consult with the parent and required team members to review existing information to determine what additional data, if any, are needed to determine if the child is a child with a disability and requires special education and related services.
- Within 15 days of the date of receipt of the transition notice, provide a prior written notice to the parents documenting the proposal or refusal to evaluate the child.

Further details regarding relevant timelines and the responsibilities of both agencies are included in Attachments A, B, and C.

Frequently Asked Questions

	Question	Response
EARLY INTERVENTION	What are the responsibilities of EI for transitioning children who are potentially eligible for DOE special education and related services?	For children who are potentially eligible for DOE services, EI must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hold a transition conference (with parent consent) at least 90 days prior to the child's third birthday and must invite a DOE representative to the conference. • Notify the DOE (school) of children who are potentially eligible for special education and services.
	What is the responsibility of EI if a child is referred to EI less than 90 days prior to the child's third birthday?	If a child is referred to EI between 45 and 90 days prior to the child's third birthday, then EI: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Must conduct the initial evaluation and Individual Family Support Plan (IFSP) meeting and, if the child is determined eligible and is receiving services from EI, EI must submit the form "Part C Transition Notice to DOE" to the child's home school. • May, but is not required to, conduct a transition conference with a DOE representative.
	What is the responsibility of EI if a child is referred to EI less than 45 days prior to the child's third birthday?	If a child is referred to EI fewer than 45 days prior to the child's third birthday, EI may, but is not required to, conduct an initial evaluation and IFSP meeting for that child. Frequently Asked Questions

	respond to multiple attempts by the school to meet or discuss the referral, or refuses to sign consent for an initial evaluation?	that the child will not be evaluated for possible eligibility under Part B of the IDEA. A parent may ask for an evaluation at any time.
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION	What is the school's responsibility if a child was referred to EI less than 90 days prior to the child's third birthday and was therefore referred to DOE less than 90 days prior to the child's third birthday?	If a child was referred to EI less than 90 days prior to the child's third birthday the school must conduct the initial evaluation under Part B adhering to all evaluation, eligibility and IEP timelines and requirements per Chapter 60 and IDEA. Schools are encouraged to complete the evaluation and eligibility processes and develop and implement the IEP by the child's third birthday or as soon after the third birthday as possible.
	What is the school's responsibility if a child was referred to Part C at least 90 days prior to the third birthday, but was referred to Part B less than 90 days prior to the third birthday?	If a child was referred to Part C at least 90 days prior to the third birthday, but was referred to Part B less than 90 days prior to the third birthday, the school must ensure that the evaluation and eligibility are completed and the IEP developed and implemented by the child's third birthday even if the evaluation/eligibility timeline expires after the child's third birthday.
	If a referral from EI (Part C Transition Notice) is received more than 120 days prior to the child's third birthday must the school begin an initial evaluation immediately?	If a referral from EI is received more than 120 days prior to the child's third birthday, the school and the parent may decide to postpone the initial evaluation under Part B until closer to the child's third birthday. This decision must be documented on a prior written notice. It is imperative that the school initiate evaluation procedures for the child with sufficient time to complete the process and, if eligible, have services in place by the child's third birthday.
	What if the school and the parent decide to conduct the evaluation far in advance of a child's third birthday? When is the school required to implement the IEP?	Even if the school and the parent complete the evaluation, eligibility and IEP for a child far in advance of the child's third birthday, the school is not required to implement the IEP prior to the third birthday, but must do so by the third birthday.
	What happens if a child's third birthday occurs during summer?	If a child's third birthday occurs during the summer, the IEP team must consider the date when services under the IEP will begin. If the child requires extended school year (ESY) services in order to receive a free appropriate public education, the IEP team may initiate services before school resumes. If the child does not require ESY services, the "projected implementation date" on the IEP may be the first instructional day of the next school year.
	What responsibilities does the school have to invite the EI care coordinator to the initial IEP meeting?	The school must inform parents that they may request the EI Care Coordinator or service provider be invited to the initial IEP meeting. The school is responsible for inviting the EI Care Coordinator or service provider to the initial IEP meeting if the parent requests.

Agreement, Court Order or Individualized Education Program)

Monitoring Special Education Students in Private School/Placement

This memo replaces the memo dated April 14, 2009; Special Education: Recent Changes to the Hawaii Revised Statutes §302A-443.

The Department of Education (Department) must ensure that the requirements under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) are carried out for all students with disabilities, including those placed by the Department in a private school/placement. [34 CFR §§300.149(a) and 300.325(c)] In addition, Act 129, effective on June 15, 2011, authorized the Department to monitor any child eligible to receive special education and related services placed as the result of a due process hearing decision, settlement agreement, court order, or an individualized education program (IEP) placement at the Department's expense in any private school/placement. Any private school/placement that receives funding from the Department for the placement of a student with a disability, whether the funding is by direct payment or through reimbursement to the student's parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian must allow the Department access to monitor any student placed at the private school/placement.

At the beginning of each school year, the district/complex area will send a letter regarding the Department's monitoring requirement to each private school/placement that received a student with a disability at the district/complex area's expense (placed by the Department). If a placement is made later in the school year to a private school/placement that was not sent a letter, the district/complex area must send the letter as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days, after the placement decision. The letter template is included in Attachment B: "Private School/Placement Monitoring of Student Letter to Parent(s)."

The public school (School) must send the letter template in Attachments B and C: "Private School/Placement Monitoring of Student Letter to Parent(s)" and "Private School/Placement Monitoring of Student Letter to Private School/Placement" within ten (10) business days of the first private school/placement of a student with a disability at a private school/placement as the result of a due process hearing officer's decision, settlement agreement, court order, or IEP team decision.

When scheduling a monitoring visit, the School sends the scheduling letter in Attachment D: "Oversight and Monitoring Requirement of Student Letter to Private School/Placement". For the visit, the monitoring team must consist of at least two (2) representatives from the School or complex who are knowledgeable about the student. The School will document contact information and observation using Attachment E: "Monitoring Log: Contact Information" and Attachment E1: "Student Observation Form".

For more detailed information on the monitoring requirements, Attachment A: "Procedural Guidelines for Monitoring Special Education Students in In-State Private School/Placement" and Attachment F: "Oversight and Monitoring of Student – Request for Student's Records Letter to Private School/Placement" are included as tools to document monitoring.

Graduation Requirements

As with all students enrolled in a School, special education students placed in private school/placement by the Department must meet the Department's requirements for a diploma or a certificate. The School's administrator will determine whether the private school/placement meets the standards of the Department for School's High School Diploma. The "Procedural Guidelines for Monitoring Special Education Students in In-State Private School/Placement" (Attachment A) should be considered in that determination. The student with a disability attending a private school at the Department's expense will be issued the School's High School Diploma or Certificate of Completion.

Act 129, effective June 15, 2011, amended HRS 302A-443, authorizing the Department to monitor any child eligible to receive special education and related services, placed in any private school/placement receiving funding from the Department.

Monitoring is to ensure that:

- Each student is receiving academic education, instruction, and programming as required by the student's Individualized Education Program (IEP).
- The curriculum and instruction are rigorous, based on content standards aligned with the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) or Hawaii Content & Performance Standards (HCPS) III.

Monitoring shall include, but is not limited to:

- Receipt of student's records from the private school/placement within three (3) business days of receipt of a request for such records.

Monitoring Team

A student with a disability placed in a private school/placement at Department's expense must be provided a free appropriate public education. The Department must:

- 1) Ensure a current IEP is in place.
- 2) Attach the due processing hearing decision, settlement agreement, court order, or IEP placement, to the IEP.
- 3) Conduct a reevaluation at least once every three (3) years or more frequently if conditions warrant, or if the parent requests a reevaluation.
- 4) Send within ten (10) business days of the IEP team placement, the due process hearing decision, settlement agreement, or court order, via delivery confirmation or return receipt requested and documentation of the electronic Comprehensive Student Support Systems (eCSSS) event log.

If unable to contact the private school/placement or the private school/placement fails to respond, send another scheduling letter and follow-up. If unable to contact or no response to second letter, conduct the monitoring visit at the school or facility as scheduled and document the results of the visit.
 - 6) Document contact information on Attachment E: Monitoring Log: Contact Information.
 - 7) Document the observation on Attachment E1: Student Observation Form.

- 8) Monitor the student in the private school/placement at least quarterly and document in eCSSS in the event log.

District/Complex Area

The District/Complex Area must:

1. Send Attachment C: "Private School/Placement Monitoring of Student Letter to Private School/Placement" at the beginning of each school year to each private school/placement that receives a special education student at the Department's expense.
2. Check the posting every April for the itemized rates, fees, and tuition for the following school year of the private school/placement that have students with disabilities at district/complex area's expense.
3. Review billing information received from private school/placement to ensure that:
 - a. The same itemized rates, fees, or tuition are the same as those posted in #2, and
 - b. Services are limited to those specified in each student's IEP.
4. Ensure that every public school that has a student placed at a private school/placement monitors their students' progress quarterly and conducts an on-site visit at least annually.

AN AFFIRMATIVE ACTION AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

TRANSFER OF RIGHTS FOR AN ADULT STUDENT WITH A DISABILITY
ENROLLED IN A PUBLIC SCHOOL
Questions and Answers
Revised August 2011

AGE OF MAJORITY

What does the phrase “age of majority” or “adult student” mean?

According to Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) §577-1, the “age of majority” is when all persons residing in the State, who have attained the age of 18 years, shall be regarded as of legal age and their period of minority to have ceased. An “adult student” is a student who has reached the age of majority.

What is the significance of a student with a disability reaching the age of majority?

When a student with a disability reaches the age of majority, the educational rights to make decisions accorded to the parent, under Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEA) and HAR Chapter 60, transfers to the adult student, except for a student with a disability who has been determined to be incompetent/lacking decisional capacity under state law.

ACT 182 – TRANSFER OF RIGHTS

What is the purpose of Act 182, the Transfer of Rights, of the HRS?

Effective July 1, 2008, the purpose of Act 182 is to provide educational decision-making options to an adult student with a disability enrolled in a public school.

What are the educational decision-making options for an adult student mentioned in Act 182?

There are three educational decision-making options available to an adult student:

- Appointment of an agent through a (limited) power of attorney for special education (POA SPED) to make educational decisions on behalf of an adult student;
- Appointment of an educational representative for an adult student who lacks decisional-making capacity to make educational decisions for him/herself; or
- Appointment of a guardian, established through court, for an adult student who lacks decisional capacity to make educational decisions for him/herself.

Presumption: An adult student is presumed to have decisional capacity to make educational decisions for him/herself. No documentation is required.

DECISIONAL CAPACITY

What does having “decisional capacity” mean?

Having decisional capacity refers to an adult student being able to understand, reason, and act on his/her own behalf. An adult student who has decisional capacity is able to provide informed consent with respect to educational decisions or program.

What does “lack of decisional capacity” mean?

As noted in Act 182, the adult student has an inability to:

- Understand the nature, extent, and probable consequences of a proposed educational program or option on a continuing or consistent basis;
- Make a rational evaluation of the benefits or disadvantages of a proposed educational decision or program as compared with the benefits or disadvantages of another proposed educational decision or program on a continuing or consistent basis; or
- Communicate such understanding in any meaningful way.

Who determines if an adult student has a lack of decisional capacity to provide informed consent?

The determination that an adult student has a lack of decisional capacity, as noted in Act 182, shall be made by a qualified professional such as the student's primary physician, psychologist, psychiatrist, or the Hawaii Department of Health, Developmental Disabilities Division.

Why is it important to know if an adult student has a lack of decisional capacity?

The decisional capacity of the adult student will help determine which of the three transfer of rights option(s) may be appropriate for consideration. Remember, the adult student is presumed to be capable of making his/her own educational decisions, unless there is documentation supporting otherwise.

Can an adult student, who has decisional capacity, make educational decisions for him/herself?

Yes, an adult student is presumed to make educational decisions for him/herself. An adult student can also opt to appoint an agent to make educational decisions on his/her behalf by completing a POA SPED.

If an adult student lacks decisional capacity, as determined by a qualified professional, who would make educational decisions on the adult student's behalf?

An adult acknowledged by the Department of Education (DOE) as an educational representative or a guardian assigned by the court can make educational decisions on the adult student's behalf.

NOTIFICATION AND DOCUMENTATION

Does the public school notify the student and his/her parent(s) of Act 182 (Adult Special Education Transfer of Rights for Students with Disabilities Upon Reaching the Age of Majority) in Hawaii?

Yes. Beginning at least one year before the student reaches the age of majority, the student and his/her parent(s) are to be informed that the rights under IDEA, 34 CFR §300.520(a)(1)(ii) and HAR §8-60-74 will transfer to the student on reaching 18 years old. The school is to additionally inform the student and his/her parent(s) that upon the student reaching 18 years old, the adult student has options relating to the transfer of educational rights in accordance with Act 182. To facilitate this, schools may share this Questions and Answers document with interested individuals.

Does the public school only invite the adult student to Individualized Education Program (IEP) meetings?

No. The public school, in accordance with 34 CFR §300.520(a)(1)(i) and HAR §8-60-74, must provide notice to the parents, which includes parents of an adult student. If the public school has received documentation noting educational decisions will be made by another individual (i.e., POA SPED, educational representative, or court appointed guardian), then the school is to also invite that individual who can make educational decisions on behalf of the adult student.

Where should transfer of rights documentation be placed?

All documentation relating to the transfer of rights, such as a copy of a POA SPED, etc., is to be kept in the student's confidential file and notated in the electronic Comprehensive Student Support System.

Does a copy of documentation relating to the revocation of a POA SPED have the same effect as the original?

Yes. A copy of the POA SPED revocation document has the same effect as the original.

Can the agent or the educational representative have access to student records?

Yes. The agent or the educational representative has the same rights as the adult student to request, receive, examine, copy, and consent to the disclosure of the IEP or any other educational records.

APPOINTMENT OF AN AGENT – POWER OF ATTORNEY FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION

What is a POA SPED?

A POA SPED is a written document executed in the State of Hawaii by an adult student, which appoints an agent to make educational decisions on behalf of the adult student.

Is there a restriction on who the adult student can appoint as an agent in the POA SPED?

Yes. Unless related to the adult student by blood, marriage, or adoption, the (adult) agent cannot be an owner, operator, or employee of the public school/institution at which the adult student is receiving special education services.

What are the duties and responsibilities of an agent?

The agent shall have the opportunity to participate in meetings with respect to:

- The identification, evaluation, and educational placement of the adult student;
- The provision of free appropriate public education to the adult student; and
- The provision of input in accordance with the adult student's individual instructions or other wishes, if any, to the extent known.

The agent shall participate in accordance with the determination of the student's best interest. In determining the student's best interests, the student's personal values, to the extent known, shall be taken into consideration.

Can the POA SPED be revoked by the adult student?

Yes. The adult student can revoke the appointed agent by submitting written documentation to his/her supervising teacher (i.e., care coordinator, IEP teacher). Educational rights revert back to the adult student. A teacher (i.e., general education teacher, student services coordinator), agent, or guardian who is notified of the revocation shall promptly communicate the fact of revocation to the supervising teacher and to any educational institution (i.e., public school) at which the student is receiving special education services.

Are there any other circumstances when the appointed agent may be revoked?

Yes. A decree of annulment, divorce, dissolution of marriage, or legal separation shall revoke the previous designation of a spouse as an agent, unless otherwise specified in the POA SPED.

The school has a POA SPED. At a meeting, a POA SPED with a later effective date and with different instructions is presented. Which POA SPED is to be followed?

A POA SPED that conflicts with an earlier dated POA SPED revokes the earlier power of attorney to the extent of the conflict. The method of revocation must be specified in the document.

What information is required in the POA SPED?

The POA SPED is to include the following information to be valid. The POA SPED will not be in effect if the required information is missing.

Statement of Conditions & Acknowledgement

- Date of execution in the State of Hawaii.
- A statement indicating whether the adult student retains the power to make educational decisions while the POA SPED is in effect.
- A statement with the method of revocation.
- Adult student's signature.

Agent Information

- Printed first and last name of the individual to be the agent.
- Relationship to the adult student.

Witness Information or Notary Public Information

Witness Information

- Document is to be either signed by two individuals who witnessed the signing of the POA SPED or received the adult student's acknowledgement of the authenticity of the adult student's signature.

Notary Public Information

- Printed name of the notary public, accompanied with a signature and the date signed.
- Printed address of the notary public.
- Seal from the notary public.

Although not stated in Act 182, the following information is needed:

Adult Student Information

- Printed first and last name of the adult student.
- Contact information (i.e., address, phone number).

Agent Information

- Contact information (i.e., address, phone number).

What are the differences between a “power of attorney” and a “power of attorney for special education”?

According to HRS §560:5-105, a “power of attorney” may delegate to another person for a period not exceeding one year, any power regarding the care, custody, or property of a minor or ward. Care of a minor or ward may include educational matters, even if not explicitly specified. A power of attorney, under HRS §560:5-105, is used solely to delegate an individual to make decisions for a minor, an individual who has not attained 18 years of age.

In Act 182, the “power of attorney for special education” specifically applies to adult students with a disability who choose to delegate another individual to make educational decisions on the adult student's behalf; it is valid for the length of time the adult student remains eligible for special education in a public school, unless otherwise specified in the POA SPED or upon revocation by the adult student.

It is important to remember that securing a power of attorney is a family matter. Families who do not have an attorney and are in need of assistance may contact the Legal Aid Society of Hawaii at (808) 536-4302 or the Hawaii State Bar Association at (808) 537-1868.

APPOINTMENT OF AN EDUCATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE

Who appoints the educational representative?

The public school may appoint an educational representative upon receipt of the educational representative information, adult student's information, and a statement from a qualified professional noting the student's lack of decisional capacity.

By means of Act 182, the law allows for the parent(s) or the adult spouse of an adult student with a disability who lacks capacity, to act as the educational representative on behalf of the adult student. If the parent(s) or adult spouse is not available or able, the public school shall appoint an educational representative from the following: a competent brother or sister, adult aunt or uncle, or grandparent. If these relatives are not willing or able to serve as the adult student's educational representative, the public school must then submit a request for a surrogate parent to serve in this capacity.

What are the duties and responsibilities of the educational representative?

The educational representative shall have the opportunity to participate in meetings with respect to:

- The identification, evaluation, and educational placement of the adult student;
- The provision of free appropriate public education to the adult student; and
- The provision of input in accordance with the adult student's individual instructions or other wishes, if any, to the extent known.

The educational representative shall participate in accordance with the determination of the student's best interest. In determining the student's best interests, the student's personal values, to the extent known, shall be taken into consideration.

What documentation is required to be an educational representative?

While there is no specific form to be completed for an individual to be designated as an educational representative, written documentation by a qualified professional (i.e., student's primary physician, psychologist, psychiatrist, or the Hawaii Department of Health, Developmental Disabilities Division) acknowledging the adult student lacks decisional capacity is required.

What information is required to be an educational representative?

The following information is required:

Certification Statement

- Statement of determination of the adult student's lack of capacity by a qualified professional (student's primary physician, psychologist, psychiatrist, or the Hawaii Department of Health, Developmental Disabilities Division).

Although not stated in Act 182, the following information is needed:

Adult Student Information

- Printed first and last name of the adult student.
- Contact information (i.e., address, phone number).

Educational Representative Information

- Printed first and last name of the individual to be educational representative.
- Contact information (i.e., address, phone number).
- Relationship to the adult student.

What is the length of time an educational representative can represent a student?

The educational representative can represent the adult student for the length of time the adult student remains eligible for special education in the DOE, except when the adult student has been reassessed by qualified personnel and found to have regained decisional capacity. For additional information see the next question.

Does the educational representative continue to represent an adult student if the adult student has regained capacity?

No. Should an adult student be reassessed by a qualified professional and found to have regained decisional capacity, the findings of the decision by the qualified professional is to be in writing and entered into the student's educational record. The adult student, now having decisional capacity, regains his/her educational rights to make educational decisions. No additional documentation is required.

GUARDIAN

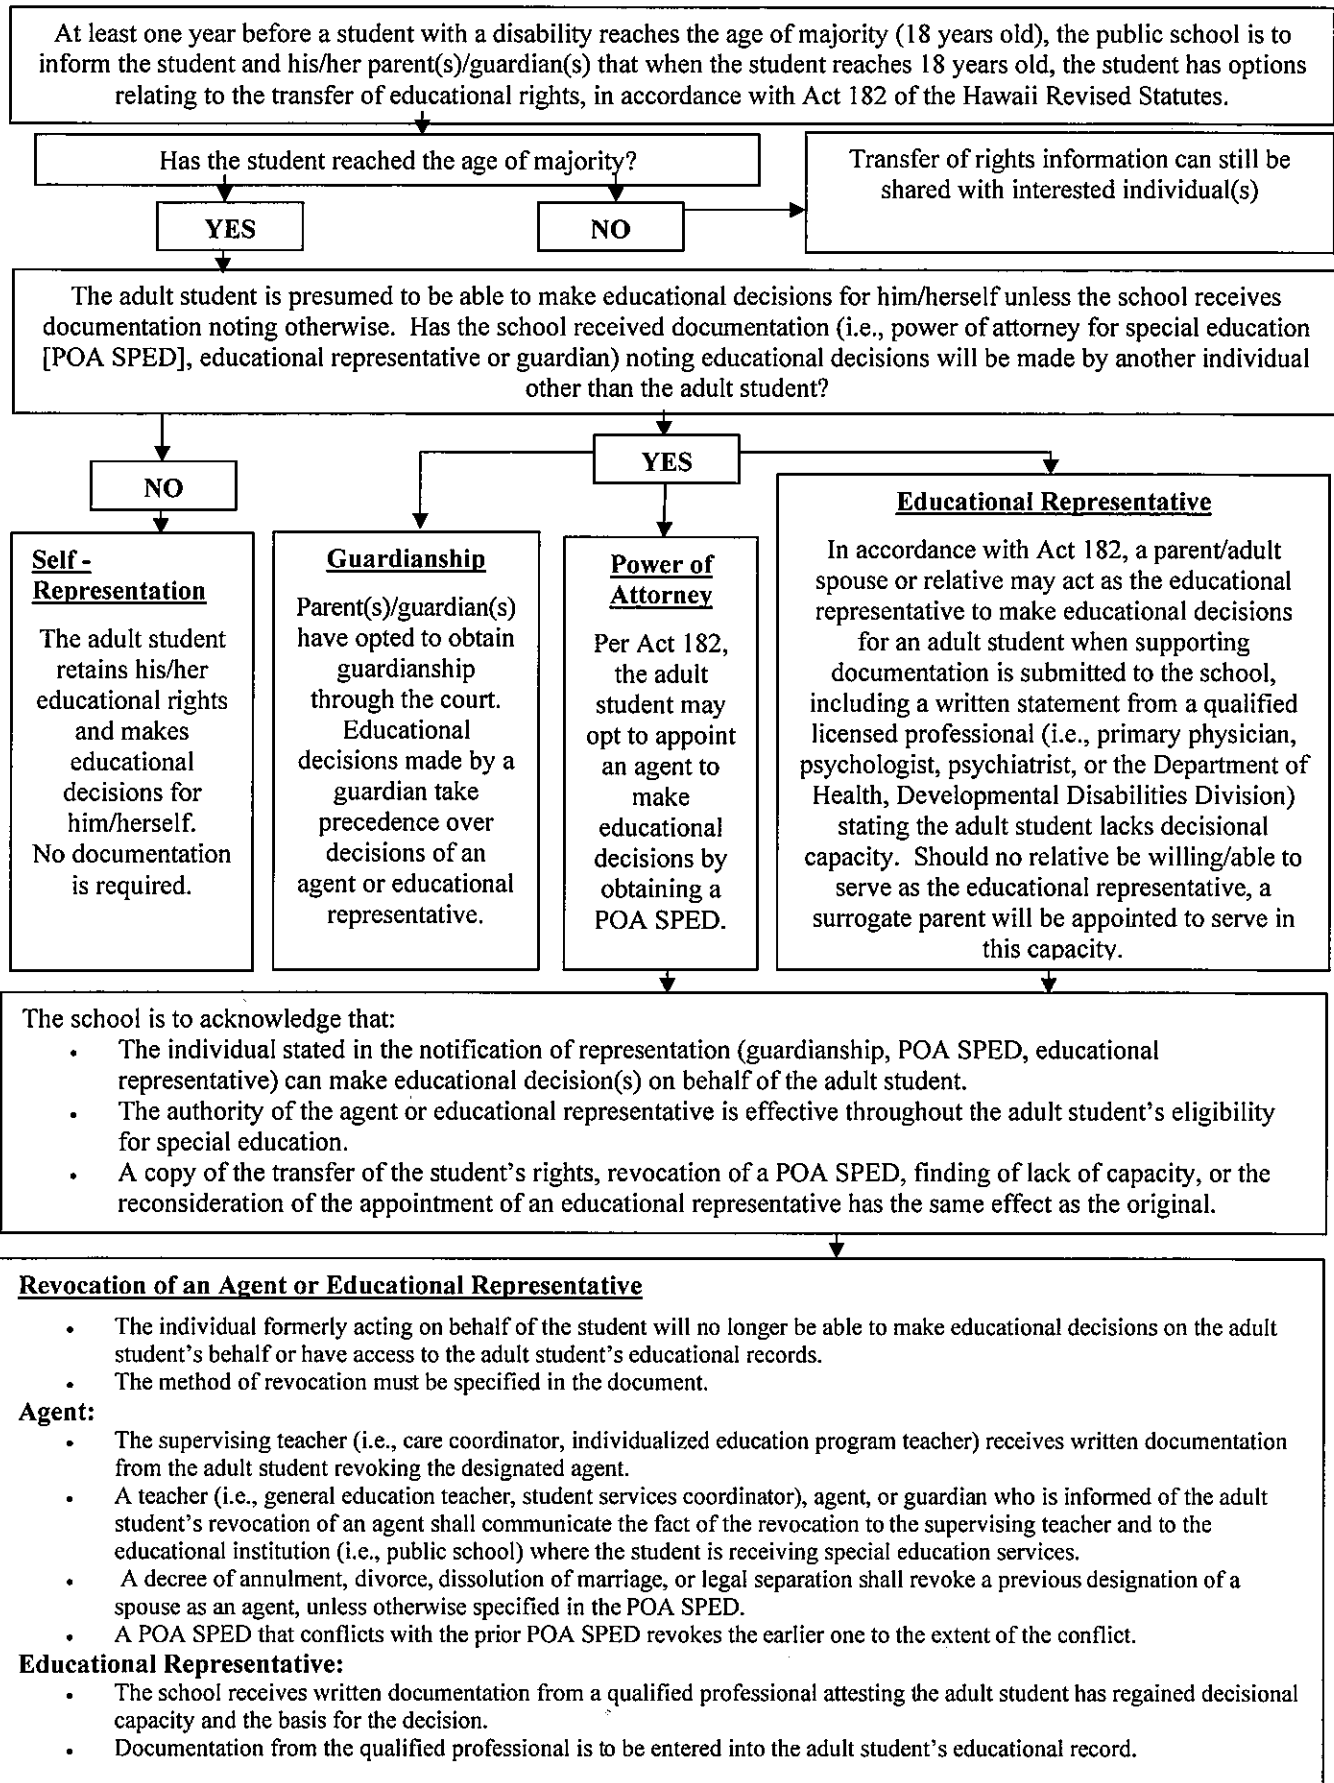

What is guardianship?

Guardianship, according to HRS §560:5-301, is when a person becomes a guardian of an incapacitated person by an appointment by a parent, spouse, reciprocal beneficiary, or upon appointment by the court. The guardianship continues until terminated without regard to the location of the guardian or ward. The appointment, powers, etc., of the guardian is to be in accordance with HRS §560:5-301 through §560:5-318.

An adult student who lacks capacity has an educational representative. The courts have now appointed a guardian. Who makes the educational decisions for the adult student?

Decisions made by a court appointed guardian takes precedence over that of an agent or educational representative, unless a court order states otherwise.

- Carry out an independent on-site investigation, if the CMP determines that an investigation is necessary.
- Give the complainant the opportunity to submit additional oral or written information about the allegations in the complaint.
- Provide the appropriate Department personnel the opportunity to respond to the complaint and submit a proposal to resolve the complaint.
- Provide an opportunity for the parent who has filed a written complaint and the appropriate Department parties to voluntarily engage in mediation.
- Review all relevant information and make an independent determination as to whether the Department violated a requirement of Part B of IDEA, its implementing regulations, or HAR Chapter 60 in relation to the complaint.
- Within 60 days of receipt of the written complaint, issue a written decision to the complainant that addresses each allegation in the written complaint and contains:
 - a) Findings of fact and conclusions; and
 - b) The reasons for the final decision.

Following the receipt of a written complaint, additional information, either orally or in writing, should be directed to the CMP.

Written complaint procedures and timeline

Extensions to the 60-day timeline are permissible, if exceptional circumstances exist, or if the parties agree to extend the timeline to utilize dispute resolution.

Mediation and other methods of alternative dispute resolution

The parties to a written complaint may voluntarily engage in alternative dispute resolution to include, but is not limited to, mediation, facilitation, and conciliation. Mediation information is posted at:

http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm

Implementation of the decision and corrective action

The Department may direct corrective action to address violations. Corrective action may include, but is not limited to, technical assistance, negotiations, or remedies to the denial of appropriate services to address the needs of the student and appropriate future provision of services for all students with disabilities.

Written complaints and due process hearings

If a written complaint and due process hearing are filed simultaneously, the Department will set aside any part of the written complaint being addressed in the due process hearing. The Department will enforce the implementation of a due process hearing decision.

Who may file

Any individual or organization may file a written complaint. Due to confidentiality reasons, complainants who are not the legal parent or guardian will not receive the decision of a written complaint. The decision will be sent to the parent, school, and district/complex.

Filing a written complaint

A complaint must be in writing and include:

1. A statement that the Department violated a requirement regarding the provision of special education services;
2. The facts on which the statement was based;
3. The signature and contact information for the complainant;
4. If alleging violations with respect to a specific student:
 - a) The name and address of the residence of the student;
 - b) The name of the school the student is attending;
 - c) In the case of the homeless student or youth (as applicable to the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act), the available contact information for the student, and the name of the school the student is attending;
 - d) A description of the nature of the problem of the student, including facts relating to the problem;
 - e) A proposed resolution of the problem to the extent known and available to the party at the time the complaint is filed; and
5. Allegations that occurred not more than one year prior to the date that the complaint is received.

Written complaints should be sent to:

Appendix H Dispute Resolution

Mediation

Mediation

Mediation will promote better communication between parents and school personnel and will encourage the early resolution of differences. The use of mediation will prevent concerns from entering into the more formal, costly, and time-consuming due process hearing arena.

Mediation is:

- Voluntary; and
- Not to be used to deny or delay the parent's right to a due process hearing.

Qualified, trained, and impartial mediators for parties wishing to utilize mediation are provided by the following:

Location	Phone	Fax
Oahu: The Mediation Center of the Pacific	(808) 521-6767	(808) 538-1454
Maui, Molokai, Lanai: Mediation Services of Maui	(808) 244-5744	(808) 249-0905
West Hawaii: West Hawaii Mediation Services	(808) 885-5525	(808) 887-0525
East Hawaii: Ku`ikahi Mediation Center	(808) 935-7844	(808) 961-9727
Kauai: Kauai Mediation Program	(808) 245-4077	(808) 245-7476

Mediation shall be offered:

- When a dispute arises.
- Whenever parents request a due process hearing to resolve disputes related to the identification, evaluation, educational placement, or the provision of a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to a student with disabilities.

Any dispute resolution practice may be offered at any time.

Mediation is provided at no cost to the parent, school, or district/complex

District/complex/school responsibilities:

- Provide the informational flyer (Special Education Mediation, Preventing and Resolving Conflicts Involving the Education of Students with Special Needs) at minimum, whenever a dispute arises or when a parent files a due process hearing request. The flyer describes the mediation process and explains the benefits of utilizing this alternative dispute resolution option. The flyer is available at:
http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm.
- When a parent requests an impartial due process hearing, the district/complex/school shall inform the parents of the availability of mediation. The District Due Process Managers, or their designees, must determine whether parents wish to attempt mediation. (This information should be documented on page 2 of the Request for Impartial Due Process Hearing, OCISS Form 105.) This form is available at:
http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm.

If mediation is desired, districts/complexes are to immediately complete and fax the Alternate Dispute Resolution Intake Form to the appropriate Mediation Center. The Mediation Center Case Manager will contact the parties to coordinate the date, time, and location for the mediation session. Sessions will be held at a location that is convenient to the parties in the dispute. This form is available at: http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm.

If the Mediation Centers are providing mediators for sessions other than those stemming from a due process hearing request, schools should complete the Alternate Dispute Resolution Intake Form and fax it directly to the appropriate Mediation Center.

General

The Hawaii Department of Education (Department) must make mediation available to allow the parent and the Department to resolve disagreements involving any matter under Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEA) including matters arising prior to the filing of a due process complaint. Thus, mediation is available to resolve disputes under Part B of the IDEA, whether or not the parent has filed a due process complaint to request a due process hearing.

Requirements

The procedures must ensure that the mediation process:

- Is voluntary on the parent's part and the Department's part;
- Is not used to deny or delay the parent's right to a due process hearing or to deny any other rights the parent has under Part B of the IDEA; and
- Is conducted by a qualified and impartial mediator who is trained in effective mediation techniques.

The Department must have a list of people who are qualified mediators and know the laws and regulations relating to the provision of special education and related services. The Department must select mediators on a random, rotational, or other impartial basis.

The Department is responsible for the cost of the mediation process, including the costs of meetings.

Each meeting in the mediation process must be scheduled in a timely manner and held at a place that is convenient for the parent and the Department.

If the parent and the Department resolve a dispute through the mediation process, both parties must enter into a legally binding agreement that sets forth the resolution and that:

- States that all discussions that happened during the mediation process will remain confidential and may not be used as evidence in any subsequent due process hearing or civil proceeding; and
- Is signed by both the parent and a representative of the Department who has the authority to bind the Department.

A written, signed mediation agreement is enforceable in any State court of competent jurisdiction (a court that has the authority under State law to hear this type of case) or in a district court of the United States. Discussions that happened during the mediation process must be confidential. They cannot be used as evidence in any future due process hearing or civil proceeding of any Federal court or State court of a State receiving assistance under Part B of IDEA. (Parties are no longer required to sign a confidentiality pledge before mediation begins.)

Impartiality of mediator

The mediator:

- May not be an employee of the Department that is involved in the education or care of the student; and
- Must not have a personal or professional interest which conflicts with the mediator's objectivity.

A person who otherwise qualifies as a mediator is not an employee of the Department solely because he or she is paid by the Department to serve as a mediator.

Due Process Hearing

A parent or the school may initiate a due process hearing on any disagreements relating to the identification, evaluation, placement, or provision of FAPE.

Neither the school nor district/complex can delay or deny the filing of a due process hearing request. Therefore, regardless of the time period, the parent has a right to file a due process hearing request. Only the hearings officer makes the determination on whether the complaint is within the statute of limitations.

Pursuant to HRS §302A-443, a parent may file an impartial hearing within 180 calendar days of a unilateral special education placement, where the request is for reimbursement of the cost of the placement. The timeline begins on the first day of attendance. For exceptions to the timeline, see HAR §8-60-65(g).

General

The parent or the Department may file a due process complaint on any matter relating to a proposal or a refusal to initiate or change the identification, evaluation, or educational placement of the student or the provision of FAPE to the student.

The due process complaint must allege a violation that happened not more than two years before the parent or the Department knew, or should have known, about the alleged action that forms the basis of the due process complaint, except as specified by HRS §302A-443.

The above timeline does not apply if the parent could not file a due process complaint within the timeline because:

- The Department specifically misrepresented that it had resolved the issues identified in the complaint; or
- The Department withheld information from the parent that it was required to provide the parent under Part B of the IDEA.

If the parent disagrees with the availability of a free appropriate education in the public schools, and places the student in a private school or facility and has questions regarding the financial responsibility for all costs of education at the private placement, including special education and related services, a hearing for reimbursement must be requested within 180 days of placement, as described under the sub-heading "Statute of Limitations in Claiming Reimbursements for Unilateral Placements in Private Schools." Placement occurs on the student's first day of attendance at the private school.

The Department must inform the parent of any free or low-cost legal and other relevant services available in the area if requested or if the Department files a due process complaint. The information is referenced in the Procedural Safeguards Notice and is available at: http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm.

Requesting a hearing

A hearing request may be made by submitting either a letter or "Request for Impartial Due Process Hearing" (OC/SS Form 105) to the district/complex area superintendent. This form is available at: http://doe.k12.hi.us/specialeducation/index_rights.htm.

If a request is sent directly to the school, or if the school is requesting the hearing, the school must send the request to the complex area superintendent without delay.

The district/complex must fax the request for hearing to the State Special Education Section, the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs (DCCA), and the Attorney General's Office. The fax must include the following information:

- Student's name; and
- First date any Department personnel received the request for hearing.

General

In order to request a hearing, the parent or the Department (or parent's attorney or the Department's attorney) must submit a due process complaint to the other party. That complaint must contain all of the content listed below and must be kept confidential.

The Department is responsible for the conduct and costs of the hearing. A request for a hearing can be made to the appropriate district/complex area superintendent of the district/complex in which the student is enrolled.

Content of the complaint

The due process complaint must include:

- The name of the student;
- The address of the student's residence;
- The name of the student's school;
- If the student is a homeless student or youth (as applicable to the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act), the student's contact information and the name of the student's school;
- A description of the nature of the problem of the student relating to the proposed or refused action, including facts relating to the problem; and
- A proposed resolution of the problem to the extent known and available to the parent or the Department at the time.

Notice required before a hearing on a due process complaint

The parent or the Department may not have a due process hearing until the parent or the Department (or the parent's attorney or the Department's attorney), files a due process complaint that includes the information listed above.

Sufficiency of complaint

In order for a due process complaint to go forward, it must be considered sufficient. The due process complaint will be considered sufficient (to have met the content requirements above) unless the party receiving the due process complaint (the parent or the Department) notifies the hearings officer and the other party in writing, within 15 calendar days of receiving the complaint, that the receiving party believes that the due process complaint does not meet the requirements listed above.

Within five calendar days of receiving the notification the receiving party (the parent or the Department) considers a due process complaint insufficient, the hearings officer must decide if the due process complaint meets the requirements listed above, and notify the parent and the Department in writing immediately.

Complaint amendment

The parent or the Department may make changes to the complaint only if:

- The other party approves of the changes in writing and is given the chance to resolve the due process complaint through a resolution meeting, described below; or
- By no later than five days before the due process hearing begins, the hearings officer grants permission for the changes. If the complaining party (the parent or the Department) makes changes to the due process complaint, the timelines for the resolution meeting (within 15 calendar days of receiving the complaint) and the time period for the resolution (within 30 calendar days of receiving the complaint) start again on the date the amended complaint is filed unless agreed upon by parties.

Department's response to a due process complaint

If the Department has not sent a prior written notice to the parent regarding the subject matter contained in the parent's due process complaint, the Department must, within ten calendar days of receiving the due process complaint, send to the parent a response that includes:

- An explanation of why the Department proposed or refused to take the action raised in the due process complaint;
- A description of other options that the student's individualized education program (IEP) Team considered and the reasons why those options were rejected;
- A description of each evaluation procedure, assessment, record, or report the Department used as the basis for the proposed or refused action; and
- A description of the other factors that are relevant to the Department's proposed or refused action.

Providing the above information does not prevent the Department from asserting that the parent's due process complaint was insufficient.

Other party response to a due process complaint

Except as stated under the sub-heading immediately above, the Department's response to a due process complaint, the party receiving a due process complaint must, within ten calendar days of receiving the complaint, send the other party a response that specifically addresses the issues in the complaint.

The Department must develop model forms to help the parent file a due process complaint and a State complaint. However, the Department may not require the parent to use these model forms. In fact, the parent can use this form or another appropriate model form, as long as it contains the required information for filing a due process complaint or a State complaint.

Resolution meeting

Within 15 calendar days of receiving notice of the parent's due process complaint and before the due process hearing begins, the Department must convene a meeting with the parent and the relevant member or members of the IEP Team who have specific knowledge of the facts identified in the parent's due process complaint. The meeting:

- Must include a representative of the Department who has decision-making authority on behalf of the Department; and
- May not include an attorney of the Department unless the parents are accompanied by an attorney.

The parent and the Department determine the relevant members of the IEP Team to attend the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is for the parent to discuss the due process complaint, and the facts that form the basis of the complaint, so that the Department has the opportunity to resolve the dispute.

The resolution meeting is not necessary if:

- The parent and the Department agree in writing to waive the meeting; or
- The parent and the Department agree to use the mediation process, as described under the heading Mediation.

Resolution period

If the Department has not resolved the due process complaint to the parent's satisfaction within 30 calendar days of the receipt of the due process complaint (during the time period for the resolution process), the due process hearing may occur.

The 45 calendar day timeline for issuing a final decision begins at the expiration of the 30 calendar day resolution period, with certain exceptions for adjustments made to the 30 calendar day resolution period, as described below.

Except where the parent and the Department have both agreed to waive the resolution process or to use mediation, the parent's failure to participate in the resolution meeting will delay the timelines for the resolution process and due process hearing until the parent agrees to participate in a meeting.

If after making reasonable efforts and documenting such efforts, the Department is not able to obtain the parent's participation in the resolution meeting, the Department may, at the end of the 30 calendar day resolution period, request that a hearings officer dismiss the parent's due process complaint. Documentation of such efforts must include a record of the Department's attempts to arrange a mutually agreed upon time and place, such as:

- Detailed records of telephone calls made or attempted and the results of those calls;
- Copies of correspondence sent to the parent and any responses received; and
- Detailed records of visits made to the parent's home or place of employment (with discretion) and the results of those visits.

If the Department fails to hold the resolution meeting within 15 calendar days of receiving notice of the parent's due process complaint or fails to participate in the resolution meeting, the parent may ask a hearings officer to order that the 45 calendar day due process hearing timeline begin.

Adjustments to the 30 calendar day resolution period

If the parent and the Department agree in writing to waive the resolution meeting, then the 45 calendar day timeline for the due process hearing starts the next day.

After the start of mediation or the resolution meeting and before the end of the 30 calendar day resolution period, if the parent and the Department agree in writing that no agreement is possible, then the 45 calendar day timeline for the due process hearing starts the next day.

If the parent and the Department agree to use the mediation process, at the end of the 30 calendar day resolution period, both parties can agree in writing to continue the mediation until an agreement is reached.

However, if either the parent or the Department withdraws from the mediation process, then the 45 calendar day timeline for the due process hearing starts the next day.

Written settlement agreement

If a resolution to the dispute is reached at the resolution meeting, the parent and the Department must enter into a legally binding written agreement that is:

- Signed by the parent and a representative of the Department who has the authority to bind the Department; and
- Enforceable in any State court of competent jurisdiction (a State court that has authority to hear this type of case) or in a district court of the United States.

Agreement review period

If the parent and the Department enter into an agreement as a result of a resolution meeting, either party (the parent or the Department) may void the agreement within three business days of the time that both the parent and the Department signed the agreement.

General

Whenever a due process complaint is filed, the parent or the Department must have an opportunity for an impartial due process hearing, as described in the Dispute Process and Resolution Process sections. The Department is responsible for convening hearings under a “one-tier” system. “One-tier” refers to a due process system in which the Department or another State-level agency or entity is responsible for convening due process hearings, and an appeal from a due process hearing decision is sent directly to a court.

Impartial hearings officer

At a minimum, a hearings officer:

- Must not be an employee of the Department or any State agency that is involved in the education or care of the child. However, a person is not an employee of the agency solely because he/she is paid by the agency to serve as a hearings officer;
- Must not have a personal or professional interest that conflicts with the hearings officer’s objectivity in the hearing;
- Must be knowledgeable and understand the provisions of the IDEA, Federal and State regulations pertaining to the IDEA, and HAR Chapter 8-60 and legal interpretations of the IDEA by Federal and State courts; and
- Must have the knowledge and ability to conduct hearings, and to make and write decisions, consistent with appropriate, standard legal practice.

The Department must keep a list of those persons who serve as hearings officers that includes a statement of the qualifications of each hearings officer.

Subject matter of due process hearing

The party (the parent or the Department) that requests the due process hearing may not raise issues at the due process hearing that were not addressed in the due process complaint, unless the other party agrees.

Timeline for requesting a hearing

The parent or the Department must request an impartial hearing on a due process complaint within two years of the date the parent or the Department knew, or should have known, about the issue addressed in the complaint, except as specified by HRS §302A-443.

Exceptions to the timeline

The above timeline does not apply to the parent if the parent could not file a due process complaint because:

- The Department specifically misrepresented that it had resolved the problem or issue that the parent is raising in the parent's complaint; or
- The Department withheld information from the parent that it was required to provide to the parent under Part B of the IDEA.

Statute of limitations in claiming reimbursements for unilateral placements in private schools

In accordance with Hawaii Revised Statutes, §302A-443 Administrative hearing procedures and subpoena power relating to the education of children with a disability, there is a 180-day statute of limitations in claiming reimbursement for unilateral placements, including special education and related services, in private schools. That is, if the parent disagrees with the availability of a free appropriate education in the public schools, places the student in a private school or facility and has questions regarding the financial responsibility for all costs of education at the private placement, including special education and related services, a hearing for reimbursement for special education and/or related services must be requested within 180 calendar days of placement. Please note that placement occurs on the student's first day of attendance at the private school.

Subject: Surrogate Parent Guide

According to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Hawaii Administrative Rules, Chapters 60/61, a student with disabilities must be provided a surrogate parent to make educational decisions on behalf of the student in the following circumstances:

- the parent cannot be identified;
- the Department of Education (DOE), after reasonable efforts, cannot discover the "whereabouts" of a parent; or
- the student is a "ward of the state."

It is the duty of the DOE to have a method to determine whether a student needs a surrogate parent. To provide public schools a resource relating to surrogate parents, the Surrogate Parent Guide was developed. The attached guide gives general information about a surrogate parent, the inter-relationship with other agencies and the assignment process of a surrogate parent for a student with disabilities.

Two important items in the Surrogate Parent Guide are outlined below:

1. Assignment of a Surrogate Parent:
 - The School must make reasonable efforts to request and ensure the appointment of a surrogate parent within a 30-day timeline; and
2. Foster Parents:
 - The natural or adoptive parent is presumed to be the parent when more than one party is qualified to act as a parent unless the biological or adoptive parent does not have legal authority to make educational decisions.

The process to determine an individual as a parent for a student with a disability for purposes of Chapters 60/61 should be made at the school level and, if appropriate, be made in consultation with the assigned social worker from the Department of Human Services, Child Protective Services. The attached Surrogate Parent Guide, Determination of an Individual as the Parent Checklist, Revised February 2012 may be used in this process.

If the need for a surrogate parent is found to be warranted, the attached OCISS Form 051, Revised February 2012, Request for Assignment of a Surrogate Parent for a Student Identified under Chapters 60/61, is to be used. The current surrogate parent provider is the Epic Foundation. Contact information for the Epic Foundation is included in the Surrogate Parent Guide.

Your dedicated efforts to provide a free appropriate public education for all DOE students with disabilities are appreciated. Should you have any questions, please contact Ms. Marilyn Jakeway, Educational Specialist, Special Education Section, at (808) 203-5560 or via Lotus Notes.

SURROGATE PARENT GUIDE

Hawaii Department of Education
Office of Curriculum, Instruction and Student Support
Special Education Section
Revised February 2012

In accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEA) and Hawaii Administrative Rules, (HAR) Chapters 60/61, in certain circumstances, a surrogate parent is assigned to protect a student's right to a free appropriate public education (FAPE). HAR §8-60-73, §8-61-12

SURROGATE PARENT

What is a surrogate parent?

A surrogate parent is an individual who:

- Acts in place of the legal parent to make decisions about the student's education when no parent can be located or identified;
- Makes decisions in all matters relating to the identification, evaluation and educational placement of the student and the provision of a FAPE. HAR §8-60-73, §8-61-12

When is a surrogate parent needed?

Whether or not a student needs a surrogate parent is determined by the following: Does the student have a "parent"?

As defined by Chapters 60/61 "parent" means:

- A natural or adoptive parent of the student;
- A guardian, but not the State if the student is a ward of the State;
- A person acting in place of a parent (such as a grandparent or step-parent with whom the student lives, or a person legally responsible for the student's welfare);
- A surrogate parent who has been assigned in accordance with Chapters 60/61; or
- A foster parent (under certain conditions).

However, the natural or adoptive parent is presumed to be the parent when more than one party is qualified to act as a parent unless the biological or adoptive parent does not have legal authority to make educational decisions. IDEA 2004 §300.30(a)(5)

When a student reaches the age of majority, age 18 in Hawaii, the rights which were accorded to the surrogate parent are transferred to the student, except when the student has a disability and is determined to be incompetent under state law. HAR §8-60-74

If the student does not have a parent, as defined by Chapters 60/61, a surrogate parent must be assigned.

The Department of Education (DOE) must ensure that the rights of a student are protected when:

- No parent can be identified;
- The DOE, after reasonable efforts, cannot discover the whereabouts of a parent; or
- The student is a ward of the State under the laws of Hawaii. HAR §8-60-73, §8-61-12

Who is a ward of the State, and how long is a surrogate parent assigned to the ward of the State?

- A ward of the State is a child in the temporary, foster or permanent custody of a state agency--usually the Department of Human Services (DHS).
- A surrogate parent is assigned as long as a state agency retains foster or permanent custody of the child.

What is the most important factor for a school to consider in requesting a surrogate parent?

- The student's legal status, rather than living arrangements, is the first and most important factor in the decision to appoint a surrogate parent.
- The public school which is considering a surrogate parent appointment must first learn whether the student is a ward of the State or is in the process of becoming a ward of the State.

A surrogate parent is not needed if the student is residing with a person considered to be a parent under Chapters 60/61 (e.g., is willing to make educational decisions) and is not in the process of becoming or is not a ward of the State.

The school may use the Determination of An Individual As the Parent checklist, which states specific criteria (e.g., a long term parental relationship of at least six months), for the team to use in determining an individual as a parent.

What steps must the school take to request a surrogate parent?

- Utilize the Determination of An Individual As the Parent checklist to assist in the decision to request a surrogate parent.
- The school submits the OCISS Form 051, Request for Assignment of a Surrogate Parent, to the surrogate parent provider, currently the Epic Foundation (Epic).
- The Epic assigns a trained surrogate parent to the student.

What is the time limit for a surrogate parent to be assigned?

The school shall make reasonable efforts to request and ensure the assignment of a surrogate parent not more than 30 days after the determination by the school that the student needs a surrogate parent. IDEA 2004 §300.519(h)

If the parent of a student is unresponsive to meetings related to educational decisions, may a surrogate parent be assigned?

No. Public schools should make efforts to collaborate and communicate with parents of special needs students and emphasize the importance of parental participation.

Who can NOT be a surrogate parent?

- Adults with a conflict of interest; or
- Adults employed by an agency involved in the education or care of the student. IDEA 2004 §300.519(d)(2)(i)

What rights does a surrogate parent have?

The surrogate parent has the same rights as those of a legal parent with respect to the educational decision-making process.

These include the right to:

- Inspect, review, and obtain copies of all records relating to the student's education and to seek changes with respect to the content in accordance with the chapter of the HAR relating to the Protections of Educational Rights and Privacy of Students and Parents;
- Give written consent for the initial evaluation, three year re-evaluation, and/or placement of the student in a program providing special education and/or related services;
- Receive written notice prior to any evaluation or change in the student's placement or program;
- Receive notice of and participate in any Individualized Education Program (IEP), Modification Plan (MP) or Individualized Family Service Plan meeting or other conferences which pertain to the student's education, e.g., manifestation determination;
- Be informed of the special education policies, programs and services of the educational agency and all procedural safeguards;
- Exercise parental rights as defined by the procedural safeguards notice; and
- Receive documentation related to the student's progress (e.g., quarterly IEP/MP progress reports or notices of disciplinary actions).

What is the role of a surrogate parent at an educational meeting?

The surrogate parent, acting in place of the legal parent, is part of the IEP/MP team and represents the interests of the student in the educational decision-making process.

Does the surrogate parent provide any direct care of the student?

No. The surrogate parent participates only in decisions regarding the education of the student.

Is the surrogate parent responsible to follow the laws regarding confidentiality of student information?

Yes. Under the regulations of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, it is the responsibility of the surrogate parent to keep confidential any information that is gathered from the student's records, teachers, and others involved with the student's education. 20 U.S.C. 1232g

What happens if a surrogate parent does not agree with the provision of FAPE?

- Consensus is the goal, but in the absence of team consensus, the principal is required to make an offer for the provision of FAPE.
- If the surrogate parent disagrees with the DOE's proposal or refusal to initiate or change the identification, evaluation, or educational placement of the student, or the provision of a

FAPE to the student, the surrogate parent, as well as the team members, should continue to communicate and work collaboratively with each other on this matter (e.g., monitor the student's educational progress with measurable data and re-assess the issue if needed). The surrogate parent may opt to exercise parental rights as stated in the procedural safeguards notice (i.e., mediation, due process).

What happens if there is a concern or a complaint regarding a surrogate parent?

- The principal of the public school and the surrogate parent should collaborate and dialogue towards reaching a mutual solution. Epic or the state office may be contacted for additional assistance.
- The surrogate parent may be liable for actions that are deemed by a court to be gross misconduct and/or willful negligence.

FOSTER PARENTS

What is the main difference between a foster parent and a surrogate parent?

- Both the foster and surrogate parent are involved in the student's education, and both may participate in the IEP/MP meeting.
- Educational decisions, such as the option to accept or reject the services being proposed and the right to initiate mediation or due process, are the responsibility of the surrogate parent. HAR §8-60-73, §8-61-12
- The surrogate parent is authorized to make educational decisions on behalf of the student. The surrogate parent can also sign a consent for the release of educational records, i.e., IEP/MP, as well as information pertaining to mental health as a related service.

What is the role of a foster parent?

Upon the first day of placement, foster parents may provide consent for the routine educational and recreational needs and activities of the foster children placed in their care, except for purposes regulated under Title 8, Chapters 60/61, of the HAR.

An important role of the foster parent is to assure that the child is provided in a timely manner with adequate food, clothing, shelter, psychological care, physical care, medical care, supervision, and other necessities. Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) §587-82.5

Can a foster parent be a surrogate parent to his/her child?

No. Currently, in the State of Hawaii, by contract with the DOE, only the Epic may designate an individual as a surrogate parent.

Can an individual, such as a foster parent, act as the parent?

Yes. An individual, such as a foster parent, may act as a parent of the child if the specific conditions under IDEA and Chapters 60/61 are met. A public school should refer to the form, titled Determination of an Individual as the Parent, for the specific criteria. HAR §8-60-73, §8-61-12

What kind of assistance can a foster parent receive from a DHS social worker?

A foster parent can expect the DHS social worker to assist the family in developing a case plan for needed services. This may also include assisting the foster parent with the enrollment or withdrawal of the student from school.

Does the DHS notify the school of foster care involvement?

Yes. The DHS informs the school of a student’s foster care placement and, if applicable, the student’s special education status via DHS form 1607.

GUARDIAN AD LITEM

Must there be a guardian ad litem in order to have a surrogate parent assigned?

No. A surrogate parent may be assigned without a guardian ad litem. A guardian ad litem is appointed by the court to protect and promote the needs and interests of the child or party in legal proceedings. Thus, a guardian ad litem is an advocate who speaks for the child, a reporter who presents, in written form, information to the court, and one who ensures that court orders are carried out, all in the best interests of the child. HRS §587-34

A guardian ad litem is not authorized to make educational decisions. However, in order to assure that the student receives the educational and legal supports that allow the student to succeed, ongoing communication among the school, surrogate parent and guardian ad litem is vital.

HOMELESS YOUTH

What is the surrogate parent requirement for unaccompanied homeless youth?

According to the McKinney Vento Act, if an unaccompanied homeless youth enrolls in a school, the state education agency must make reasonable efforts to ensure that a surrogate parent is appointed within a 30-day timeline. IDEA 2004 §300.519(h)

SURROGATE PARENT FRAMEWORK TERMS

Family Supervision

This is a legal status created in accordance with a court order or DHS authorization (HRS §587-21) after it has been determined that the child is presently in the legal or permanent custody of a family which is willing and able to provide a safe family home.

Foster Custody

This is a legal status created in accordance with a court order or DHS authorization (HRS §587-21) after it has been determined that the child’s family is not presently willing and able to provide a safe family home, even with the assistance of a service plan. The responsibilities of the foster custodian include: monitoring the provision of an appropriate education, providing consents which are required for the child’s health or welfare, including but not limited to, ordinary medical, dental, psychiatric, psychological, educational, employment, recreational or social needs.

Joint Permanent Custody

In cases of joint permanent custody, a caregiver and DHS have custody. The joint permanent custodians are vested with the duties and rights of a legal custodian.

Permanent Custody

This is a legal status created in accordance with a court order after the court has determined by clear and convincing evidence that it is in the best interests of the child to order an appropriate permanent plan concerning the child. Parental rights are terminated.

Temporary Foster Custody

Under Chapter 587, with or without order of the court, DHS assumes the duties and rights of a foster custodian over a child. Custody is temporary, usually until the next jurisdictional hearing.

In cases of temporary foster custody, DHS is given custody although parental rights may not have been terminated. When given custody, DHS is vested with the duty and right to determine where the child is to be placed, see to the adequate provision of food and shelter, monitor the education, and provide consents which are required for the child’s physical or psychological health or welfare.

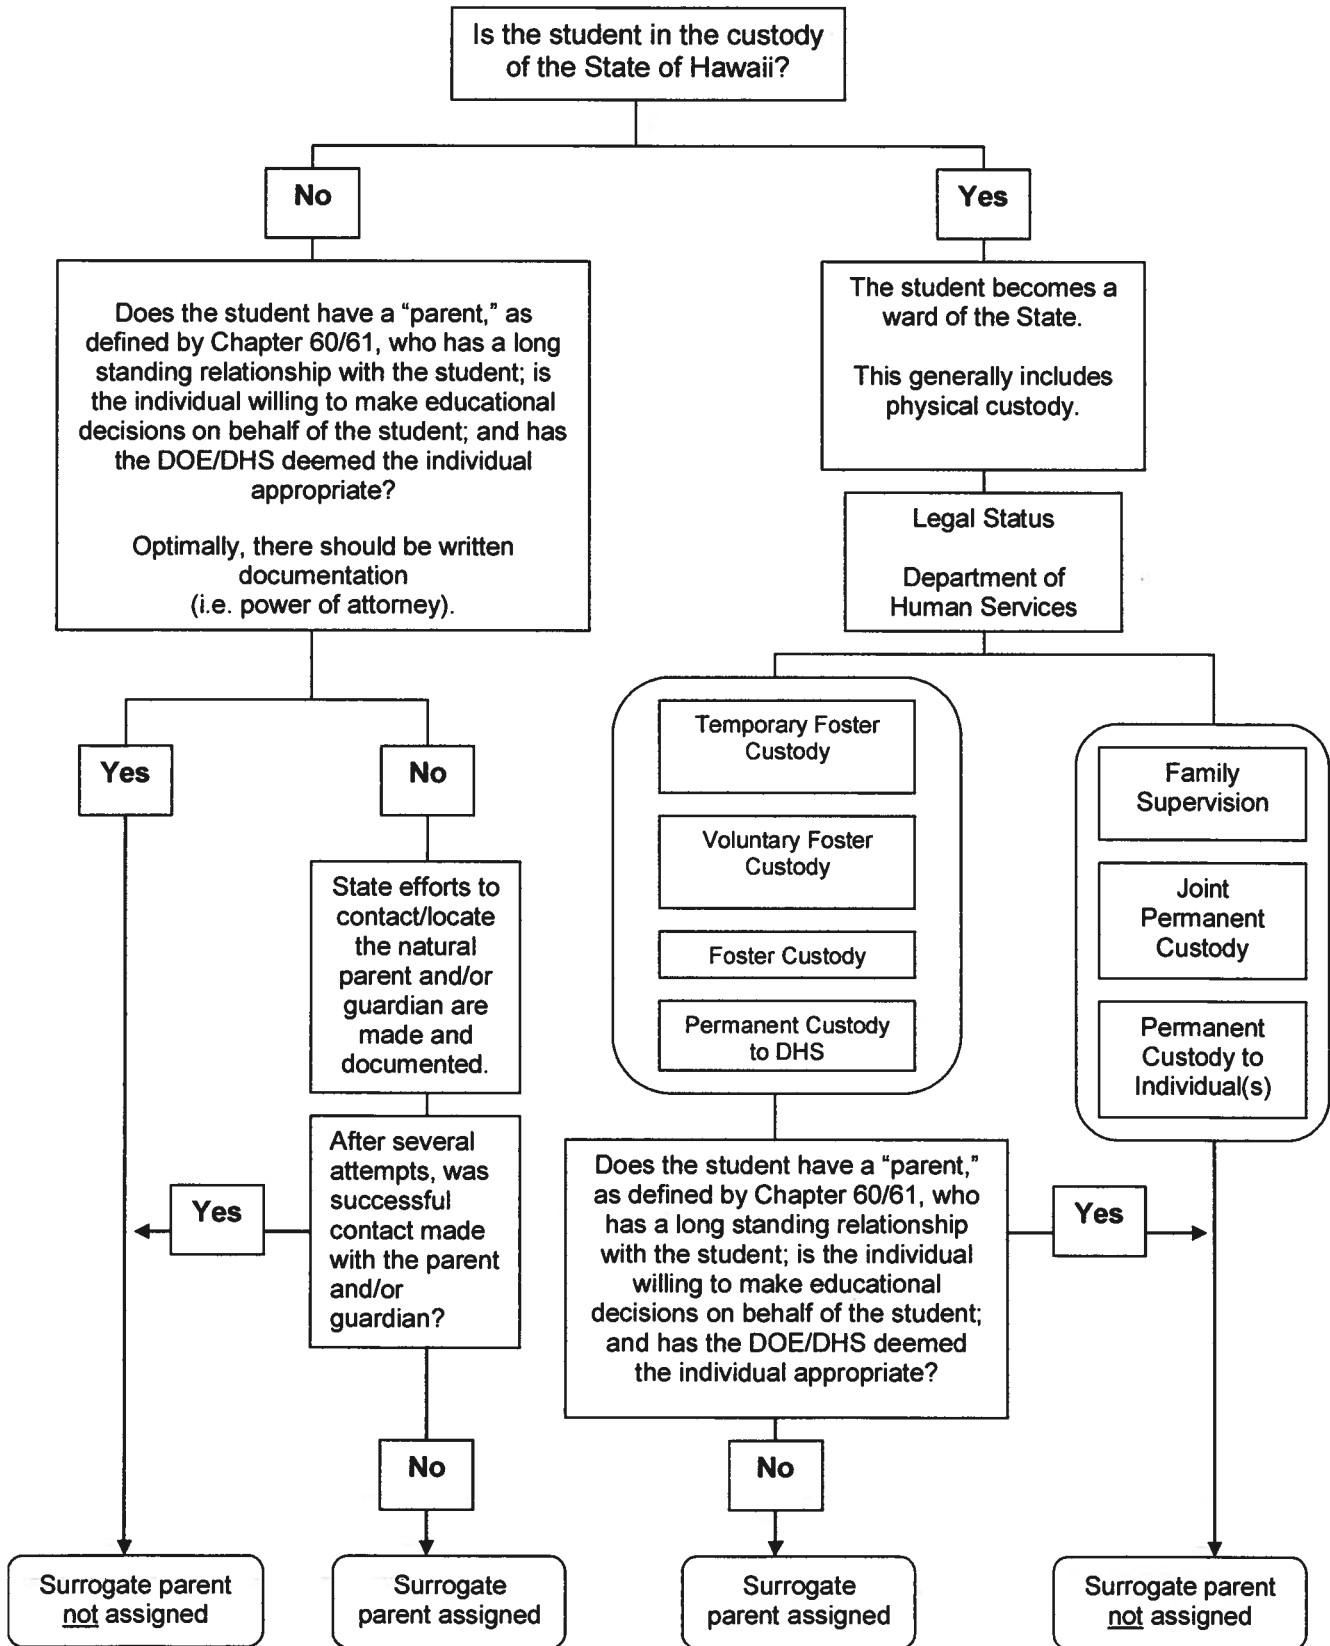

Voluntary Foster Custody

Voluntary foster custody is a legal status in which a child’s parents or legal guardian sign an agreement to transfer the care and custody of their child to DHS. DHS works with the parents to identify the services needed in order to ensure the safety of the home before the child is returned. Intended to be a temporary safety measure, parents do not give up rights to their child in this situation.

DISCIPLINE CONSIDERATIONS

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and Chapter 60

INTRODUCTION

It is established in the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) Hawai'i Administrative Rules, Title 8, Chapter 60 (Chapter 60) that students with a disability may be disciplined in the same manner as students without a disability, as long as students with a disability:

- Are not penalized for behavior that is a manifestation of their disability; and
- Are provided educational services when the discipline constitutes an educational change of placement.

The IDEA and Chapter 60 provide procedural and substantive protections to a student with a disability that must be followed along with Hawai'i Administrative Rules, Title 8, Chapter 19 (Chapter 19).

It is highly recommended that school personnel take steps to address misconduct when it first appears. Such steps could, in many instances, eliminate the need for future disciplinary action. Proactive measures may be facilitated through the Individualized Education Program (IEP) and placement processes required by IDEA. For example, when misconduct occurs, a functional behavioral assessment could be conducted, and determinations could be made as to whether the student's current program is appropriate and whether the student could benefit from the provision of more specialized instructional and/or related services, such as counseling, psychological services, or social-work services in schools. In addition, teacher training in effective use of conflict management and/or behavior management strategies could also be effective.

In the best of circumstances:

- Existing behavioral factors are identified in the evaluation of the student with a disability;
- The IEP team carefully considers whether the student's behavior impedes or would impede his/her learning or the learning of other students;
- Positive behavioral interventions, strategies and supports to address the behavior are included in the student's IEP; and
- As a result of these interventions, the student benefits educationally and conforms to school rules.

However, even in the best of circumstances, with committed and trained personnel who carefully follow the law and use appropriate behavior management strategies, a student with a disability may violate school rules. If misconduct does occur, disciplinary actions that do not result in the removal of a student with a disability from his / her current placement, such as reprimands, warnings, and parent conferences are authorized under the IDEA and Chapter 60. For suspensions of ten or fewer cumulative school days in the same school year, the student with a disability is subject to the same rules of conduct as a student without a disability and may be suspended in accordance with Chapter 19 without further procedural or substantive requirements under the IDEA or Chapter 60. Suspensions for more than ten cumulative school days in the same school year are permissible for separate incidences of misconduct; however, there are procedural requirements under the IDEA and Chapter 60 that apply to these disciplinary exclusions.

WORKING TOGETHER WITH PARENTS

When a decision has been made to suspend a student because of a violation of a code of student conduct, the school shall inform the parent of the decision and document the contact. In the matter of discipline, as in all aspects of education, communication and relationships are key. Ideally, school personnel and parents should discuss how to respond to a student's behavior before it becomes an issue.

The limitations in IDEA and Chapter 60 on the amount of time that students with disabilities who violate school rules can be removed from their current placements apply only when school personnel are not able to work out appropriate placements with their parents. The protections come into play when the student with a disability's placement will be changed by the disciplinary action and the student's parent objects to the change of placement and requests a due process hearing.

For any agreed upon change of placement, the student must be provided a free appropriate public education (FAPE). In addition, school personnel and the parent should discuss whether assessment(s), including a functional behavioral assessment, should be conducted to determine the relationship of cognitive and behavioral factors and/or whether the IEP team should develop or modify the student's behavioral intervention plan.

When a change of placement for disciplinary purposes occurs, the student's parent must be provided with a prior written notice of the change of placement and a copy of the procedural safeguards ("Procedural Safeguards Notice").

DISCIPLINE AND PROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS

The IDEA and Chapter 60 protections are easier to understand if they are viewed as preliminary procedures for school personnel to determine whether Chapter 19 rules of misconduct apply to the student with a disability in the same manner as a student without a disability.

The requirements under the IDEA and Chapter 60 are designed to ensure that a student with a disability is not removed from the student's current placement for an educationally significant period of time (more than ten (10) cumulative school days in the same school year) because of conduct related to the student's disability.

Clearly, students with a disability may not be held to a higher standard of conduct than students without a disability and they must have the same procedural protections as students without a disability. For example, if the total numbers of days in any single semester for suspensions exceed ten (10) school days, Chapter 19 requires additional protections to impose this serious discipline (§§ 8-19-8(c) and 8-19-9). Likewise, students with a disability would be afforded these same rights.

The interventions school personnel have available when the conduct of a student with a disability presents a clear threat to the physical safety of self or others include:

- Suspension;
- Placement in an interim alternative educational setting (IAES) for up to forty-five (45) school days; and
- Crisis removal.

CHANGE OF PLACEMENT

If school personnel exclude any special education student from school for more than ten (10) school days in the same school year, it is considered a significant interference with the student's right to attend school and requires heightened procedural safeguards. (Goss v. Lopez, 419 U.S. 565; 95 S.Ct. 729 (1975)) Chapter 60, § 8-60-81, considers any exclusion of a student with a disability for more than ten (10) cumulative school days in the same school year to be a change in placement.

If a parent challenges a change in placement through a due process hearing, the student will remain in the disciplinary setting during the pendency of the administrative and judicial proceedings or until the expiration of the time period of removal, whichever occurs first (§ 8-60-78).

When a disciplinary change of placement occurs, school personnel must follow additional requirements. For any removal which results in the student being excluded for more than ten (10) cumulative days in the same school year, school personnel must:

- Conduct a manifestation determination;
- Provide services so as to enable the student to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting, and to progress toward meeting the goals in the student's IEP; and
- Conduct, as appropriate, a functional behavioral assessment and provide behavioral intervention services and modifications that are designed to address the behavior violation so it does not recur.

Manifestation Determination

Immediately if possible, but no later than ten (10) school days after the decision to either suspend the student with a disability for more than ten (10) consecutive or cumulative school days, the student's IEP team must conduct a manifestation determination (§ 8-60-75(e)) to determine if:

1. The conduct in question was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to the student's disability;
 - a. Consideration may be given to whether the student's disability impaired either his/her ability to understand the impact and consequences of the behavior subject to disciplinary action or the ability to control the behavior subject to disciplinary action.
- OR
2. The conduct in question was the direct result of the department's failure to implement the IEP.

If either of the above conditions is met, the conduct in question shall be determined to be a manifestation of the student's disability.

If the misconduct is NOT a manifestation of the disability:

- The student may be disciplined in the same manner as a student without a disability under Chapter 19, except that the student's IEP team must determine the appropriate services in order for the student to progress in the general curriculum and appropriately advance toward achieving the IEP goals;
- The services must begin on the eleventh (11) day of cumulative suspension in the same school year; and
- School personnel shall conduct/review the FBA and the BIP as appropriate.

If the misconduct IS a manifestation of the disability:

- The student may not be suspended;
- School personnel must take immediate steps to remedy any deficiencies in the IEP (if the IEP team determined that the behavior was a result of the department's failure to implement the IEP); and
- School personnel shall conduct/review the FBA and the BIP.

Functional Behavioral Assessment (FBA) and Behavioral Intervention Plan (BIP)

What is a Functional Behavioral Assessment?

IEP teams need to be able to address the various situational, environmental and behavioral circumstances raised in individual cases. A functional behavioral assessment is a problem-solving process that relies on different strategies and techniques to determine the purposes or functions of the behavior by defining the behavior, identifying events that trigger the behavior and the consequences for the behavior, and developing hypotheses regarding the function of the behavior.

The functional behavioral assessment encompasses a variety of techniques and includes the direct and indirect collection of information through strategies such as the review of records and student work products, the questioning of parents and school personnel regarding the behavior, and the direct observation of the behavior to collect information on the conditions that surround the behavior. The direct observation is designed to determine the pattern of behaviors in the context of what happened right before the behavior occurred (the antecedent event) and what happened right after the behavior occurred (consequence).

What is a Behavioral Intervention Plan?

Practically all behavior occurs within a particular context and serves a particular purpose. Identifying the purpose of problem behaviors or more specifically, what the student "gets" or "avoids" through those behaviors can provide information that is essential to developing instructional strategies and supports to reduce or eliminate behaviors that interfere with successful classroom performance.

Manifestation Determination

Manifestation Determination required?
Total Number of Current and/or Previous Suspension(s) Days (within a given school year)
Ten (10) days or less	No
More than ten (10) days	Yes

SUSPENSION OF TEN (10) or FEWER CUMULATIVE SCHOOL DAYS

If a student with a disability is suspended for ten (10) or fewer cumulative school days (including crisis suspensions), the manifestation determination requirements of IDEA and Chapter 60 do not come into play. School personnel have the authority to suspend a student with a disability for ten (10) cumulative school days or fewer in the same manner as students without a disability. For purposes of determining whether the misconduct violates the rules of the school, the student would be subject to the same standards and protections as other students under Chapter 19.

If a student with a disability is suspended for less than ten (10) cumulative school days in a given school year, FAPE need not be provided during the period of suspension and the functional behavioral assessment/ behavioral intervention plan requirements are not triggered. The student may be provided with an alternate educational option (such as homework, projects, class assignments). (§ 8-60-75(d)(3))

Suspension of Ten (10) or Fewer Cumulative School Days

Within a given school year:

Manifestation Determination?	No
FBA?	No

BIP?	No
FAPE?	No
Alternate Educational Option?	Same as for regular education students

A major misconception is that students with a disability may only be suspended for up to ten (10) school days in a given school year. The federal and state requirements are not a limit on the number of days a student with a disability may be suspended in a given school year. For suspensions of more than ten (10) cumulative school days, school personnel must follow the procedures in IDEA and Chapter 60. A student with a disability may be suspended under Chapter 19 for more than ten (10) cumulative school days in a given school year or even dismissed for separate incidences of misconduct if the IEP team determines the misconduct was not a manifestation of the student's disability.

SUSPENSIONS OF MORE THAN TEN (10) CUMULATIVE SCHOOL DAYS

Suspensions for more than ten (10) cumulative school days or placement in an (IAES) are always considered a change in placement under Chapter 60. Therefore, the IDEA and Chapter 60 require heightened procedural safeguards. For any suspension of a student with a disability for more than ten (10) cumulative school days or any placement in an IAES:

- Notify the parent of the decision and provide the procedural safeguards notice no later than the day the decision to suspend the student or seek placement in an IAES, (§ 8-60-75(h));
- Conduct a manifestation determination within ten (10) school days (§ 8-60-75(e)); and
- Provide FAPE as determined by the IEP team.

Suspensions of More Than Ten (10) Cumulative School Days

Within a given school year:

When contemplating suspension, notify parent (not a prior written notice) and provide procedural safeguards notice no later than the day the decision to take action is made. Provide prior written notice if decision is made to suspend.
Manifestation Determination within ten (10) school days?	Yes
FBA/BIP? FBA/BIP?	If conduct is a manifestation of the disability - yes If conduct is NOT a manifestation of the disability – as appropriate
FAPE?	Yes, determined by the IEP team

INTERIM ALTERNATIVE EDUCATIONAL SETTINGS (IAES)

School personnel have the authority to temporarily change the placement of a student with a disability to an IAES for forty-five (45) school days for:

- Carrying or possessing a dangerous weapon to or at school, on school premises, or to or at a school function;
- Possessing or using illegal drugs or selling or soliciting the sale of a controlled substance while at school or at a school function; or

- Causing serious bodily injury at school, on school premises, or at a school function.

Definitions of the above-mentioned misconducts follow:

- Dangerous weapons: dirk, dagger, butterfly knife, switchblade knife, blackjack, slug shot, billy, metal knuckles, or other instrument whose sole design and purpose is to inflict bodily injury or death. Also included are firearms and dangerous instruments.
- Illegal (illicit) drugs: substances, the possession, distribution, ingestion, manufacture, sale, or delivery of which are prohibited under chapter 329 and chapter 712, part IV, and are illegal to possess, use, promote or sell according to any other Hawaii statute or federal law
- Controlled substance: a drug or substance as defined in Schedules I through V in chapter 329, Hawaii Revised Statutes.
- Serious bodily injury: Injury with risk of death, causing extreme physical pain, obvious disfigurement, or loss/impairment of the function of a body part or mental function.

Placement in an IAES is always considered a change in placement under Chapter 60. Therefore IDEA and Chapter 60 require heightened procedural safeguards. For any placement of a student with a disability into an IAES for more than ten consecutive or cumulative school days:

- Notify the parent of the decision and provide the procedural safeguards notice no later than the day of the decision to seek placement in an IAES; and
- Follow the manifestation determination, functional behavioral assessment/behavioral intervention plan and FAPE requirements. The student may remain in the IAES for up to forty-five (45) school days regardless of the outcome of the manifestation determination.

The IAES is determined by the IEP team. It is important to note that school personnel are not required to place or request a placement of a student in an IAES for engaging in these dangerous behaviors. It is an available option for which they have the authority to utilize. Placement in an IAES is not a disciplinary consequence.

This change of placement to an IAES setting can occur even over the objection of the parent. If the parent disagrees with the school's decision on the setting, the student remains in the IAES pending the decision of the hearing officer or until the expiration of the forty-five (45) school days, whichever occurs first, unless the parent and the school agree otherwise (§ 8-60-78).

If the misconduct is not a manifestation of the disability, then (a) the discipline set forth in Chapter 19 for the misconduct applies and (b) if suspended, FAPE must be provided from the eleventh (11) cumulative day of suspension in a given school year.

If the misconduct is a manifestation of the student's disability, it is possible, although not required, to return the student to the current placement prior to the expiration of the forty-five (45) school days (§ 8-60-75(g)(1)).

The forty-five (45) day period is not a limitation on the number of days a student can be suspended for a violent act of misconduct. If the student's misconduct is not related to the student's disability, the student may be suspended for more than forty-five (45) days if that is the disciplinary action taken for students without a disability.

Options for the location of the IAES that may be considered include (but are not limited to) the school (at alternate times of the day when all students are not in school), and community and home settings.

The IAES placement is for up to forty-five (45) school days. If necessary, the IDEA and Chapter 60 would allow a student to be placed more than once in a given school year for separate incidences of misconduct involving drugs, controlled substances and dangerous weapons. For example, a student might be placed up to forty-five (45) school days in an IAES for possessing a weapon at school in the fall and for up to forty-five (45) school days for using illegal drugs at school in the spring.

If school personnel recommend a change of placement for the student after the expiration of the IAES, and the parents disagree and file for a hearing, the student would return to the placement where the misconduct occurred. In the case of such disagreement or when the IAES expires and the return of the student to the previous placement could cause injury to the student or others, school personnel may seek an order from a hearing officer to continue the interim setting or change the "stay-put" to another appropriate placement.

Interim Alternative Education Setting (IAES)

Notify parent and provide procedural safeguards notice, no later than the day the decision to seek IAES placement is made.

CRISIS SUSPENSION

Previous Suspensions and Crisis Suspension - Ten (10) Cumulative School Days or Fewer

In an emergency, the school principal has the authority to immediately exclude a student with a disability from school through Chapter 19's crisis suspension procedures (§ 8-19-7) or through the regular suspension authority in §§ 8-19-5(a) and 8-19-8 for ten (10) consecutive or cumulative school days or fewer for the prohibited school conduct. If the total number of days of crisis suspension in any single semester exceed ten (10) school days, Chapter 19, §§ 8-19-7(a) and 8-19-9, require additional procedures for all students.

School personnel must ensure the student resumes attendance at school as soon as the "crisis" is over, that is, the exclusion is no longer necessary.

Previous Suspensions and Crisis Suspension - More Than Ten (10) Cumulative School Days

If the total number of days of suspension, both crisis and regular, exceed ten (10) cumulative school days in the same school year, school personnel have the authority to crisis suspend only if the removals do NOT constitute a change of placement.

The removals would be a change of placement only if the removals constitute a pattern:

1. Because the student’s behavior is substantially similar to the student’s behavior in previous incidents that resulted in a series of removals, and
2. Because of such additional factors such as the length of each removal, the total amount of time the student is removed, and the proximity of the removals one to another.

The student must be provided a FAPE from the eleventh (11) day of removal as determined by school personnel in consultation with the student's special education teacher. The IEP team must also be convened immediately after the crisis suspension to meet the functional behavioral assessment/ behavioral intervention plan requirements. These days of crisis suspension will be counted for purposes of any subsequent suspension.

Appendix K Confidentiality of Information

Access rights

The Hawaii Department of Education (Department) must permit parents to inspect and review any education records relating to their children that are collected, maintained, or used by the Department. The Department must comply with a request without unnecessary delay and before any meeting regarding an Individualized Education Program (IEP), or any hearing pursuant to 34 C.F.R. §300.507 or §§ 300.530 through 300.532, or resolution session pursuant to §300.510, and in no case more than 45 days after the request has been made.

The right to inspect and review education records under this section includes:

- The right to a response from the Department to reasonable requests for explanations and interpretations of the records;
- The right to request that the Department provide copies of the records containing the information if failure to provide those copies would effectively prevent the parent from exercising the right to inspect and review the records; and
- The rights to have a representative of the parent inspect and review the records.

The Department may presume that a parent has authority to inspect and review records relating to his/her child unless the Department has been advised that the parent does not have the authority under applicable State law governing such matters as guardianship, separation, and divorce.

Record of access

The Department must keep a record of parties obtaining access to education records collected, maintained, or used (except access by parents and authorized employees of the Department), including the name of the party, the date access was given, and the purpose for which the party is authorized to use the records.

Records on more than one student

If any education record includes information on more than one student, the parents of those students have the right to inspect and review only the information relating to their child or to be informed of that specific information.

Fees

The Department may charge a fee for copies of records that are made for parents under this chapter if the fee does not effectively prevent the parents from exercising their right to inspect and review those records. The Department may not charge a fee to search for or to retrieve information.

Amendment of records at parent's request

A parent who believes that information in the education records collected, maintained, or used under this chapter is inaccurate or misleading or violates the privacy or other rights of the student may request the Department to amend the information.

The Department must decide whether to amend the information in accordance with the request within a reasonable period of time of receipt of the request. If the Department decides to refuse to amend the information in accordance with the request, it must inform the parent of the refusal and advise the parent of the right to a hearing.

Opportunity for a hearing

The Department must, on request, provide an opportunity for a hearing to challenge information in education records to ensure that it is not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the privacy or other rights of the student.

Result of hearing

If, as a result of the hearing, the Department decides that the information is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the privacy or other rights of the student, it must amend the information accordingly and so inform the parent in writing. If, as a result of the hearing, the Department decides that the information is not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the privacy or other rights of the student, it must inform the parent of the parent's right to place in the records the Department maintains on the student a statement commenting on the information or setting forth any reasons for disagreeing with the decision of the Department.

Any explanation placed in the records of the student must:

- Be maintained by the Department as part of the records of the student as long as the record or contested portion is maintained by the Department; and
- If the record of the student or the contested portion is disclosed by the Department to any party, the explanation must also be disclosed to the party.

Hearing procedures

A hearing must be conducted according to the procedures in the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and Hawaii Administrative Rules (HAR) regarding the Protection of Educational Rights and Privacy of Students and Parents.

Consent

Parental consent must be obtained before personally identifiable information is disclosed to parties, other than officials of the Department, unless the information is contained in education records and the disclosure is authorized without parental consent under FERPA and HAR regarding the Protection of Educational Rights and Privacy of Students and Parents. Except as provided in the following paragraph, parental consent is not required before personally identifiable information is released to officials of the Department for purposes of meeting a requirement under the IDEA and Chapter 60.

Parental consent, or the consent of an eligible student who has reached the age of majority under State law, must be obtained before personally identifiable information is released to officials of agencies providing or paying for transition services.

Safeguards

The Department must protect the confidentiality of personally identifiable information at collection, storage, disclosure, and destruction stages. The Department must maintain, for public inspection, a current listing of the names and positions of those employees within the Department who may have access to personally identifiable information.

Destruction of information

The Department must inform parents when personally identifiable information collected, maintained, or used under this chapter is no longer needed to provide educational services to the child. The information must be destroyed at the request of the parents. However, a permanent record of a student's name, address, and phone number, his or her grades, attendance record, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed may be maintained without time limitation.
